Golden Named Chief Of Lancaster Demos

. . . DELEGATES SEEN AS BOYLE BACKERS

By Gene Budig

Lancaster County Democrats voted veteran party man Frank Golden as their county chairman here Thursday night.

Golden out-polled 26-year-old Lincoln attorney Phil Sorensen by a 93 to 57 count at the county's biennial Democratic convention.

"I'll do my best to see that Democrats are elected from the top of government to the bottom," Golden told the 150 delegates.

Delegates selected for the state Democratic convention are expected to be heavily in favor of incumbent National Committeeman Bernard J. Boyle of Omaha.

Lincolnite Jack Eitel nominated Golden, calling him "one of Nebraska's most loyal Democrats."

Entering the name of Sorensen was William L. Walker of Lincoln who briefly outlined the history of the University of Nebraska graduate.

"Phil is an outstanding young Democrat and a person who would take no part in any kind of partisanism," Walker declared.

Asked Secret Ballot

Prior to the balloting, J. J. Exon, a Sorensen supporter and campaign aide to gubernatorial nominee Frank Morrison, moved that the vote for county chairman be taken by secret ballot.

In support of his motion, Exon claimed that the use of secret ballot would help party unity. "It isn't going to help matters by having a head-counting decision."

A. Clifford Anderson, who supported Golden, next took the floor and said, "We're all old enough to stand up openly for what we want."

The motion for secret ballot for the chairmanship was voted out, 82 to 73.

Others elected to the county Democratic board were Ralph Queen, vice-chairman; Agnes Baugh, vice-chairwoman; Loren Bartzatt, treasurer; and R. Harold Marks, secretary.

Outgoing county officers were Vice Chairwoman Virginia Hall and Secretary Robert Newell, who both supported Sorensen.

The convention delegates also heard from Gerald Whelan, Democratic nominee for Congress from the First District.

Whelan, in keeping with the convention theme of party unity, claimed that "this is not the party of Ralph Brooks, Frank Morrison or Bernie Boyle; it's our party and we must unite if we're to win in November."

Delegates to the Democratic state convention were selected by a special committee and approved by the general assembly.

Legislative districts and delegates:

18th District: Carl Hartman, F. E. Finigan, Peg Anderson, Albert Francke, Ralph Harlan, Loren Bartzat, Paul Bartlett, William Otley, George Spidel, E. Herstein and Frank Golden.

Boyle Grabs Support In Key Conventions

By Don Walton

Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle appeared to be the big winner Thursday in results from key county conventions throughout the state.

Boyle

Resolutions praising Boyle's leadership were adopted in Scotts Bluff and Thayer Counties.

Lancaster County delegates elected Frank Golden, a Boyle supporter, as their chairman and chose what appears to be a dominant pro-Boyle delegation to the state convention.

Meanwhile, Douglas County—which will count ballots into late Friday morning—was reportedly naming a delegation heavily favorable to Boyle.

Lancaster and Douglas counties hold 117 of the 406 state convention votes.

Boyle told The Star Thursday night from Omaha that he is "very appreciative" of the support evidenced at county gatherings.

'Feels Good'

"I feel very good about it," the national committeeman added. "It is very complimentary."

Democratic gubernatorial nominee Frank Morrison had expressed the desire this week that Boyle be replaced as committeeman at the state convention.

Efforts to elect anti-Boyle delegates were undertaken in both Lancaster and Douglas Counties.

Boyle, who defeated Morrison for the party post in a tight tussle in 1952, was re-elected to a second term by acclamation in 1956.

The Omaha attorney will seek his 3rd term late this summer.

The Scotts Bluff County resolution Thursday night praised Boyle and State Chairman Russell Hanson, urging that they both be re-elected at the state conclave.

The Thayer County resolution was offered by W. O. Baldwin of Hebron, who in 1952 was chairman of a group which backed Morrison for national committeeman.

It called upon all party members to put personal feelings aside and re-elect both Boyle and Hanson.

The resolution also expressed confidence in Morrison.

Closed Hearing

The County Board of Equalization held its first closed hearing since 1958 Thursday, at the request of 7 local business firms. (See page 13)

U.S. SAID CAUSE OF NEW WAR MENACE

Ike Is Attack Target

Soviet Sees No Letup In Our Espionage

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Andrei Gromyko charged Thursday night President Eisenhower has made clear the United States will continue acts of espionage and sabotage against the Soviet Union. He said this policy puts the world on the brink of a nuclear war.

The Soviet foreign minister unleashed a scathing attack on Eisenhower and U.S. policy in the Security Council, where earlier the Soviet Union met overwhelming defeat in an attempt to have the United States branded an aggressor for spy flights over Russian territory.

Gromyko spoke as the Council considered a 4-power resolution calling on the Big 4 to resume negotiations on outstanding issues with the help of the United Nations.

Termed "Pointless"

He termed the resolution "toothless and pointless" and submitted a series of amendments, among them one declaring violation of air space a threat to world peace.

Gromyko said of Wednesday night's address by President Eisenhower on the collapse of the summit conference:

"This statement expresses with particular clarity the imperialistic foreign policy line of the United States, a line aimed at exacerbating the international situation.

"This found its expression above all in the demonstrative announcement to the whole world that the United States government intended to continue the policy of military espionage and sabotage against the Soviet Union, a policy of dangerous provocations which, indeed, place mankind on the brink of war."

He said Eisenhower only expressed regret that spy flights by U2 planes had failed.

Other Methods

"He did, however, add forthwith that owing to this failure the United States government would utilize other, and apparently in his understanding, more perfect methods," Gromyko continued.

Gromyko said that because the United States bears the responsibility for wrecking the Summit conference the appeal for resumption of Big 4 negotiations should be sent directly to the White House.

Herter Warns: Threats Ahead

. . . RED SPACE ACTION SEEN

Washington (UPI)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter warned Thursday that Russia may be preparing "some new threatening act." He also said he expects "further spectacular Soviet action," presumably in space, in the coming months.

Herter appeared before the House Foreign Affairs Committee to brief members on the collapse of the Summit conference and Russia's reaction to the U2 spy plane incident. Afterwards the committee issued a statement approved by Herter.

It said the secretary indicated that moderate behavior by the Russians since the Summit blowup could be interpreted either "as a desire to avoid bringing on a war crisis or as psychological in order to pull the wool over our eyes prior to some new threatening act."

"He anticipates further spectacular action by the Russians in the months to come," the statement added.

The Herter-approved statement was issued after President Eisenhower declared that "pressures by Stalinists and the Chinese Reds," rather than the U2 incident, may have been the real reason Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev scuttled the Summit conference.

Eisenhower raised this possibility in talking with Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee after a breakfast conference at the White House with 20 congressional leaders of both parties.

The President also pledged full cooperation to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which opens an inquiry Friday into the Summit collapse and U2 spy plane.

2 Drown In Sandpit

Ogallala (AP)—A pair of Ogallala sisters, 11 and 13 years old, drowned Thursday in a sandpit south of Ogallala despite another youngster's efforts to save them.

They were Betty Nickels and her younger sister, Joan.

The two girls with a friend, Lorraine Mullen, were near the center of the pit and started back. The Mullen girl made it but the Nickels sisters foundered.

The Mullen girl's 12-year-old brother, David, and another 12-year-old, Leo Griffiths, were nearby and heard the girls' cries.

Young Griffiths, who has life saving training, plunged into the sandpit and swam to their aid. He managed to get hold of one but she struggled free. He said he grasped her the second time but she slipped away.

Good Weather In Store For Long Weekend

Good weather is in store for the beginning of the long Memorial Day holiday week end for Nebraskans.

Clear to partly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures are predicted for Nebraska Friday and Friday night with highs ranging between 75 and 85.

Widely scattered afternoon and evening showers and thunderstorms may develop, however.

Grand Island reported the state high Thursday as the mercury climbed to 78 degrees, while North Platte and Sidney recorded the state low of 41.

Lincoln's Thursday high and low temperatures were 73 and 54.

Two Injured In 19th, Q 5-Car Crash

Nannette L. Franta, 22, and Lonnie G. Pool, 5, both of 4100 Cornhusker Hwy. were injured Thursday in a 5-car accident at 19th and Q.

Police said the mishap occurred when the Franta vehicle collided with another auto, driven by Beverly Carstens, 28, of 2028 No. 58th. Police said the Franta car then veered into a parked car and the parked car then skidded into two other parked vehicles.

Both injured persons were reported in "good" condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

School Aid Bill Passed

House Program Chances Slim

Washington (AP)— The House Thursday night approved a $1,300,000,000 school construction bill containing an anti-segregation provision.

The roll call vote was 206-189.

The anti-segregation amendment, put into the bill by a 218-181 vote, could endanger the chances of Senate agreement to the measure.

Under the amendment, no money could go to schools that refuse to obey court integration orders.

Southern Senators are unlikely to accept this provision. Their support would be needed in the usual House-Senate conference proceedings in such situations.

House approval of the bill came after an 8-hour session in which the legislation at one time seemed doomed.

The Senate has passed a $1,800,000,000 bill which contains a controversial provision — not in the House measure — authorizing the states to use the money for teachers' salaries as well as for school construction.

Voting for the House bill on final passage were 162 Democrats and 44 Republicans. Against it were 97 Democrats and 92 Republicans.

Voting for the anti-segregation amendment were 100 Democrats and 118 Republicans. Against it were 160 Democrats and 21 Republicans.

The bill was in trouble all the way through the stormy session. At one point it was replaced by a substitute that would have used cigarette taxes to help finance school construction, but in a later roll call vote the House discarded this approach.

As finally approved the House bill authorizes 325 million dollars a year for 4 years, the money to be used solely for school construction.

Nebraska Vote

Washington (AP) — Nebraska's 4 members of the House voted with the minority Thursday when the House passed and sent to the Senate a federal aid school construction bill.

Lodge Tosses Seal In Red Faces

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) —U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said Thursday that the Soviet Union planted a listening device for espionage in the great seal of the United States hung in the American Ambassador's private office in Moscow.

Lodge made the disclosure just before the Security Council, by a 7-2 vote, with Ceylon and Tunisia abstaining, rejected a Soviet demand for condemnation of the admitted American U2 spy plane flights over Russia.

Lodge produced the seal in a dramatic move in the council session. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko immediately sneered at it and his ally, Polish Ambassador, Jerzy Michalowski, charged that the United States had "bugged" many of Poland's offices in this country.

Lodge did not say when the microphone was planted in the U.S. Moscow embassy. A U.S. spokesman said added details were being withheld for security reasons and further information on the incident must come from the State Department.

In Washington, department officials said the discovery of the bugged great seal occurred in 1952 when George F. Kennan was Ambassador. The seal was in the study of Kennan's residence a short distance from the embassy proper.

Armed with the seal that had been bugged, Lodge told the council:

"At the time of discovery, there was a plaster of paris ring around the edge of the seal which joined the front and back so that it looked as though it was a solid piece of wood. It was not until the detection of the clandestine device that this ring was broken off, revealing that the seal was made in two pieces and designed to conceal listening equipment.

"Now, here is the seal. I would like to just show it to the council. It is quite a beautiful piece of carving. And you will note now it opens up into two pieces. Here (indicating) is the clandestine listening device. You can see the antenna and the aerial and it was right under the beak of the eagle."

"He (Lodge) has shown some pictures which apparently are works of art in his view," the Russian said. "I would like to ask him whether he could tell us out of which particular play these props were taken and when this play is going to be performed in the theaters?"

Lodge suggested Gromyko had not been paying attention and repeated in painstaking tones:

"I did not produce any pictures. I did not produce any works of art. I produced a wooden carving of the great seal of the United States which was given by some Russians to the American Ambassador to the Soviet Union and which hung in his office behind his desk and which contained an electronic device which made it possible for persons on the outside, possessing a certain type of technical device, to hear everything that went on.

"I produced that as a piece of evidence that is direct, fresh, authentic evidence to show the effectiveness and thoroughness of Soviet espionage. It is not a picture. It is not a work of art. It is not out of any play. It is out of the Soviet Union."

Gromyko did not comment further but Poland's Michalowski, disclaiming any desire to enter the "battle of microphones," observed that he had "some very interesting information concerning microphones placed in our buildings in this country, too."

Averell Harriman, former ambassador to Russia, said in New York a Soviet official presented the seal to 1945.

Harriman, former New York governor and once a Democratic Presidential campaign hopeful said he could not remember the name of the official. He hung it over the fireplace in the study.

"I am sure it was not bugged at the time I received it," he said.

Mobs Besiege Tokyo Parliament

'Don't Come Ike' Is Cry Of Leftists

. . . Wave Red Flags

Tokyo (AP)—Wildly dancing, screaming columns led by leftists laid siege to Parliament Thursday in a demonstration of 100,000 people against Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's pro-American policies and President Eisenhower's visit here next month.

Waving big red flags, the demonstrators zigzagged tirelessly around the white stone Diet (Parliament) building for hours. They roared: "Kishi wo taose" (Down with Kishi), "Ike Kaere" (Don't come Ike) and "Anpo Funsai" (Crush the U.S.-Japan security pact).

Later, a column of 16,000 snake-danced past the U.S. Embassy in a noisy 2½-hour demonstration. They rattled the embassy's shuttered windows with chants like "Kurojetto kaese" (Send back the U2). Two thousand communists chanted: "Yankee, go home."

Biggest In history

The demonstrations in Tokyo were the biggest and noisiest in the history of both the Diet and the Embassy. They were by far the biggest of the nationwide protests against Kishi and the security pact in which a million people were reported to have participated throughout Japan.

Circling the Diet building from afternoon until night, the leftists — mostly Socialists, Unionists and university students — were under orders to prevent Kishi from leaving the structure. They held him prisoner inside for 8 hours, forcing him to cancel a meeting with visiting President Sukarno of Indonesia. He finally slipped out a side entrance when the crowd thinned late at night.

Bus, Truck Accident Slightly Hurts Woman

A City Line bus-truck accident Thursday on South between 57th and 58th resulted in minor injuries to Helen Ford, 60, of 2310 So. 60th, according to a police report.

The mishap occured when the bus collided with a truck, driven by Keith I. Walker, 16, of Ashland, the report said.

The woman was treated and released at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Bob Kennedy Is 'Father Of Year'

New York (UPI) — Robert F. Kennedy, brother of Democratic presidential candidate Sen. John F. Kennedy, Thursday was named "Father of the Year" by the National Father's Day Committee.

Kennedy, 34, former counsel to the Senate Rackets Committee, is the father of 7 children.

The committee said Kennedy's achievements, including his efforts in the investigations of rackets, "bespeak the spirit of new young fathers who are beginning the second half of the century with the accent on youth."

—U.N. COUNCIL—

Russia Is Trounced

. . . By 7 To 2 Vote

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union met with overwhelming defeat Thursday in its effort to have the U.N. Security Council condemn the United States as an aggressor for sending spy planes over Russia.

The vote came after U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge dramatically displayed in the Council a hand-carved wooden eagle with a listening device hidden inside it. He said it was a gift from the Russians to the U.S. embassy in Moscow, obviously designed to let the Russians eavesdrop on Embassy conversations.

Lodge offered it as proof of Soviet espionage during a sharp final clash with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Even Gromyko Smiles

Even the dour-faced Gromyko smiled as Lodge displayed the round spread eagle replica of the Great Seal of the United States and said wryly:

"You can see the antenna and the aerial, and it was right under the beak of the eagle."

In what amounted to a resounding vote of confidence in the United States, the council rejected a Soviet resolution seeking both condemnation and a Council embargo on any future spy flights.

The vote was 2 in favor, 7 against and 2 abstaining. Only the Soviet Union and communist Poland cast affirmative votes.

KID'S BOOK NOW HOME AFTER 17-YEAR ABSENCE

About 17 years ago when he was a small boy and "didn't know any better," the college student took a children's picture book from a library bookmobile in Lincoln and tore out the library-card pocket.

Thursday, he returned one of the 1,678 overdue books brought back by Lincolnites during the last of 3 library "fine-forgiveness" days.

Assistant Libraries Director Don E. Wright said the student "felt bad about it." The book, "A Visit To Grandmother," was written by Jeannette Smith and published in 1936.

Wright said that 100 phonograph records and 4 pictures were also returned.

He described the 3 fine-free days as "a very good success."

Two of the long-overdue books returned were checked out in 1933 and 1935, he said. The 1933 check-out: "Outline of Humor," by Carolyn Wells.

'Tin Lizzie' Roars Again As Model 'A' Club Grows

"From one extreme to the other" is how the difference between driving her family's Model A Ford and low-slung English sports car is described by Mrs. Don Tonniges of 5137 Holdrege.

She's the wife of one of the organizers of a local chapter of the national "Model A" Ford Club of America.

And it's "a lot of fun to drive" one of the fabled "Tin Lizzie's" successors, she said. Theirs is a 1930 model.

Mrs. Tonniges estimated there are about 12 Model A owners in southeastern Nebraska who, together with her husband, have joined in an effort to bring back the bygone days when motoring was more adventuresome than now.

4 In Lincoln

Four of the antique-car enthusiasts hail from Lincoln, 3 from Omaha, 2 from Garland and one each from Seward, Friend and Cheney. Their aim:

"Restoration and preservation of the Model A Ford."

For the small price of $10 or $25, they assert its's possible to obtain one of the relics in junkyards and Midwestern farmyards.

Tonniges thinks a Model A, even though it sits higher off the ground than contemporary Detroit iron, has compact cars beat.

Real Mohair

Where, he wonders, can you buy a car for less than $1,000 with simpler lines than a Model A, that has real mohair upholstery and squeezes 20-30 miles from one gallon of gas?

The club toured the Capital City last Sunday in its first major activity.

Future plans call for a June jaunt to Kansas to take part in a car rally in "roarin' 20s style".

Period costume and competition for cranking and smoothest running-engine honors are expected to liven up the proceedings.

Prerequisites for joining the club are either owning a Model A or getting one within 6 months.

But why bother with the pre-depression cars?

Tonniges summed it up with: "People will look twice at a Model A while they pass up a Cadillac."

Whitten Named New Director Of State Journal

John C. Whitten of Lincoln was elected a director of the State Journal Co. to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Miss Mariel Gere.

Whitten is a former president of the Lincoln School Board and Lincoln Community Chest; vice president, secretary and director of the First Trust Company, and has been active in trust division of the American Bankers Association. He is a graduate of Lincoln High School, the University of Nebraska cum laude, and the University of Nebraska Law College and is a member of the Order of the Coif.

Other directors are Joe W. Seacrest, president and Fred S. Seacrest, secretary.

Miss Mariel Gere, who died April 13, 1960, served as a director for 56 years. Her father, Charles H. Gere, was the founder, first publisher, and first editor of The Lincoln Journal, Lincoln's oldest business institution. The estate of Charles Gere owns a 25% interest in the State Journal Co.

Violence Lessens

. . . Toll May Be 5,000

Santiago, Chile, (AP) — The death toll for south Chile's 6-day-old siege of earthquakes, tidal waves, avalances and volcanic eruptions may reach 5,000, government sources said Thursday. The devastating blows of natural violence that began last Saturday abated somewhat during the day.

Officially confirmed figures thus far show 2,829 dead and missing. But with scores of communities still cut off by nature's upheavals, officials said a final count cannot be made for weeks.

Some victims buried under masses of shifting terrain may never be found.

Chance To Help

Donations to help the people of Chile where ¼ of the population is homeless because of earthquakes, tidal waves and other ravages of nature, are being accepted by the Lincoln Chapter of the American Red Cross, 312 So. 12th.

All funds received will be sent to the Chilean Red Cross.

The 3, Delores R., 24, Michelle, 3, and Renn Pape, 8 months, all of 2001 No. 64th, were all treated and released at a local hospital.

They were all passengers in a car, driven by Marvin E. Pape, 25, of 2001 No. 64. The Pape auto was in collision with another auto, driven by Edward E. Fauth, 32, of 6940 Dudley, police said.

Committee To Work On Small Dams

Salt-Wahoo Watershed District President Otto Liebers said Thursday he will appoint a committee to work with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service in paving the way for completion of small dam projects.

The group will also work with soil conservation districts, Liebers noted.

Small dam projects are underway in southern Lancaster County, and in the Oak-Middle Creek project in western Lancaster and eastern Butler and Seward Counties.

Thirteen of 27 planned flood retarding dams have been built in the Upper Salt pilot project in southern Lancaster.

Two of 14 dams have been constructed in Oak-Middle Creek.

Officials noted that there is greater urgency in the Upper Salt project because funds for construction expire June 30, 1961.

Federal funds pay for construction of the dams, but the dam sites and maintenance must be provided locally.

The Oak-Middle Creek project expiration date is June 30, 1964.

CATHOLICS IN THE U.S. NOW NUMBER 40,871,302

New York (UPI) — Catholics in the United States now number 40,871,302, according to the just-issued official Catholic Directory for 1960.

This new total is an increase over last year of 1,365,827, and a 10-year increase of 13,105,161 or 47.2% over the 27,766,141 in 1950.

The figures represent the number of Catholics in the United States, Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands, including all families of the defense forces both at home and also abroad, and the diplomatic and other services abroad.

The 1960 edition of the directory, published by P. J. Kennedy & Sons, New York, fills 1,506 pages and weighs 7 pounds. It lists 227 members of the hierarchy, 5 cardinals, 32 archbishops, and 190 bishops.

1,500 Acres Are Sowed To Castor Beans

A total of 1,500 acres of Nebraska farm land has been planted to castor beans, Roger Langenheim, research co-ordinator for the State Department of Agriculture, announced Thursday.

Some 50 to 75 Nebraska farmers are engaged in castor bean production in 10 south-central Nebraska counties, he reported.

The project is part of the state's new agricultural and industrial research program aimed at finding new crops for Nebraska farmers and new uses for agricultural products to strengthen farm economy.

Public Polio Clinic June 1

The Lincoln Council of Parents and Teachers has slated another city-wide public polio clinic for June 1 between 6:30 and 9 p.m. at the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department.

According to Mrs. W. C. Meierhenry, council president, the clinic is a followup clinic to give second shots to those who obtained the first at the city-wide clinic held in April.

The clinic is sponsored by the PTA Council in co-operation with the Lancaster County Medical Society and the Lancaster County Pharmaceutical Assn.

The charge will be the same as that of the first clinic: 50c for boys and girls under 16, and $1 for adults.

The following streets will be available for parking during the clinic: west side of 10th between R and Q; both sides of R between 9th and 10th; both sides of 9th between Q and R, and both sides of Q between 9th and 10th.

The University of Nebraska parking lot at 10th and T will also be made available for patrons.

Hruska May Lead GOP Delegation

. . . MEET IN LINCOLN SATURDAY

By Don Walton

Nebraska delegates to the Republican national convention are expected to select Sen. Roman Hruska as delegation chairman at an organizational meeting in Lincoln Saturday.

The session — a noon luncheon affair at the Cornhusker Hotel — was called by National Committeeman Don Ross of Omaha and National Committeewoman Edna Basten Donald of Grand Island.

Hruska

The meeting was arranged in order to organize the 8-member delegation prior to a GOP National Committee meeting which Ross and Mrs. Donald will attend June 9-10, it was understood.

Hruska will be in Lincoln Saturday, another factor apparently affecting the time element.

As leader of the delegate-at-large ticket and Nebraska's senior senator, Hruska is apparently a shoo-in for chairman unless he declines the post.

Indicated Desire

The senator has also indicated his desire to serve on the convention's platform committee.

Committe preferences and assignments will be arranged at the Saturday meeting.

Timing of the organizational session prior to an official canvass of the May 10 primary vote drew some comment in Lincoln Thursday.

Last published reports of delegate vote totals showed former GOP State Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr., leading Del Lienemann of Lincoln and Charles Reed of Omaha by slim margins in the race for the 10th at-large spot.

However, informed sources said that later unofficial totals have moved Spelts into a safe lead.

The secretary of state's office reported that "nothing will be official until next week."

The state canvassing board meets Tuesday.

Convention delegates are Hruska, Val Peterson, Robert Crosby, Victor Anderson, Arthur J. Weaver of Omaha, Arthur J. Weaver of Lincoln, Ted Metcalfe, Mrs. Charles Warner, Charles Thone, Spelts, Bennett Martin, Frank E. Landis, Frank Frost, W. C. Fraser, William Spear, R. C. Johnson, Rober Simmons, and Amos Morrison.

Landis and Morrison held slim and inconclusive leads in last published election results.

Freeman Will Names Sister And Brother

The estate of the late William Howard Freeman, who died May 13, was left to his brother and sister, according to terms of his will filed in County Court.

One-half of Mr. Freeman's estate, on which no value has as yet been fixed, was left outright to his brother, Morton S. Freeman of Van Nuys, Calif. The other half was left in trust for his sister, Mrs. Margaret F. Wilkinson of Denver, Colo.

Mr. Freeman was a former executive vice president of the First National Bank. He had lived in Van Nuys since his retirement in 1959.

The first of America's diesel-powered trains, the Burlington Pioneer Zephyr, was placed on permanent exhibition at the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago Thursday following dedication ceremonies. The train, which made its debut on Nov. 11, 1934, had the Lincoln-Kansas City, Mo., line as its first route. After operating along other Burlington routes, it was removed from service last Feb. 20, after making the Lincoln-St. Joseph run from 1957 on. Reduced Charge Results In Fine

Winston Ernest Robinson of 1821 Q was fined $100 Thursday by Lancaster District Judge John Polk on a reduced charge of assault and battery.

Robinson, 38, earlier had pleaded innocent in County Court to a felony charge of assault with intent to kill, wound or maim resulting from his knifing May 20 of Andrew Kelly, 44, of the Park-O-Tel. Robinson pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to the reduced charge and was found guilty.

Kelly suffered cuts which required 150 stitches to close in the assault, which occurred outside a local tavern.

Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Paul Douglas said Kelly, who has been released from the hospital, had contacted him and asked that no charges be filed against Robinson. The felony charge was then reduced to a misdemeanor.

Both Kelly and Robinson are employed at the Hallam atomic power plant construction site.

Report To The Nation

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There was little for the American people to do but nod their heads in agreement with the words spoken to them by President Eisenhower in his explanation of or report on the Paris summit meeting effort. Particularly is this true of Eisenhower's explanation of the failure of this meeting — a failure which was predestined by Soviet decisions made before Nikita Khrushchev went to Paris.

If you want to believe the President's explanation of the U2 spy plane incident and the State Department's handling of it, you can do this, too, but the explanation seemed to have a sort of hollow ring. It is still difficult to understand how an erroneous and falsified report of reconnaissance flights could have much bearing on protection of the nation's security, its intelligence system or the life of the U2 pilot. Nor did he explain how the flights over Russia could be stopped now in view of his insistence upon their prior importance. But these are aspects of the situation which will be fully discussed in the upcoming Senate Foreign Relations Committee probe of our foreign affairs.

Undiscussed Factors

The fact that Russia purposely scuttled the summit meeting was made clear by the President's reference to the fact that the intelligence flights over Soviet territory had been going on for a number of years. If it was such an act of aggression as Russia now claims, the issue could have been drawn long ago.

But Khrushchev injected conditions into continuation of the summit meeting which the President could not possibly accept. The Kremlin boss deliberately made it impossible for the President even to attempt to explain the U2 incident and to remove it as an obstacle to negotiations. He closed the door on the summit before anyone could even get a foot inside.

Of more than passing interest is the fact that the President did not specifically analyze the significance of the summit failure. On the contrary, he indicated that he might possibly believe there is not too much significance in the failure. He did this by placing on the constructive side of the ledger a reminder that the Soviet premier at Paris did not go beyond invective — a time-worn Soviet device to achieve an immediate objective.

He did it, also, by emphasizing those major aspects of our foreign policy which still may bear some fruit in the future. He did not refer to any increase in tensions between East and West and did not take the occasion to point up the apparent hopeless incompatibility between democracy and communism. He may have done this for several reasons. He simply may have been putting first things first in the order in which he believed they belonged.

In such an event he must believe that there is still some hope of constructive negotiations with the Russians. This, however, is becoming harder and harder to accept as such events as the summit meeting unfold. There has never been a shred of evidence to the effect that the Communists have any sincere intentions of getting along with the West.

This may not mean that war is inevitable but it surely should sound an alertness alarm in the West. To take the position that peace with the Soviet Union is inevitable is a dangerous excursion into dreamland for the United States and her allies. This is our hope and objective but we will reach it only with enlightened leadership and hard work, not assumptions.

The President, too, could simply have not considered this the right time for a discussion of the possibilities of peace or could have determined that, even though the possibilities are most dim, it will never be this nation which throws in the towel. Certainly, it is obvious to the world that we are attempting to make it easy for the Russians to light the lamp of peace and hold it high. This could be done if the Soviets accepted any one of the approaches suggested by the President. Offered by the President was a renewal of negotiations, his long-standing "open skies" proposal and more communications between the people of East and West.

New Peace Offerings

Perhaps none of these things will be accepted by the Red leaders—very probably they will not—but there is little else that can be done at this time. Russia cannot be forced into living at peace with the world if she is bent on pursuits in the other direction. Our challenge is to recognize our responsibilities and let nothing deter us in fulfilling them.

Proposed Park Improvements

It will be surprising if the Park and Recreation Board recommendation for a one mill tax levy for capital improvements to the park system meets with unanimous City Council approval. This is because there are two ways of looking at the current park situation and either of them can be quite well justified.

Against the proposal is the fact that Lincoln voters just turned down a $3,250,000 bond issue for park improvements which called for a tax levy of 1.55 mills. The argument will undoubtedly be advanced that a one mill levy now by the Council would simply be a back-door entry to the ends denied the park system by the voters.

It could be interpreted as a snubbing of the expression of the voters. While the logic and merits of this kind of an argument cannot be denied, the issue can just as easily and rightfully be viewed from another angle. With the current appropriation of about $30,000 a year for capital improvements in the parks, the levy of a full mill would be an increase of only about eight-tenths of a mill.

This is just about half of what the bond program would have cost and it is logical to assume that such a modest program as that would have received the approval of the Lincoln voters. There is no guarantee of this, of course, but it is a position the Council would be justified in taking if it was convinced of the dire need which exists for an expanded program.

Even the one mill levy will keep Lincoln many years behind its needs and a long way behind recommended national park standards. But such a levy would still be from five to six times better than things are now. It would permit some progress to be made until another attempt could be advanced to secure the approval of the voters of a new comprehensive development.

Unrealistic Criterion

Edward K. Mills, Jr., Morristown, N. J. nominee for a place on the Federal Communications Commission, has withdrawn.

The difficulty comes under the general heading of conflict of interest. He is substantially invested in trust funds which in turn invest in communications enterprises. The law requires a nominee to divest himself of such interests to ward off temptation. Apparently Mills wanted his investment more than he desired to be a public servant.

The country will never know whether Mr. Mills would have been an exceptionally good and public serving commission member, but it does know one thing, his possession of investments in communication investments is not prima facie evidence that he would have been a bad and self-serving appointee. It is a clumsy yardstick that implies that material success and venery are inseparable, and it says that federal law has yet to find the suitable criterion for discerning who should and who should not be given a place of public trust.

Certainly successful knowledge of the communications field is a desirable qualification, but that is something that is generally allied to material reward, and quite often the reward comes from the field itself. So we have a paradox. A man too often is unfitted for the commission because of his superior fitness. The alternative is to select a man with less knowledge of the field, but here again lack of means or lack of knowledge are not guarantors of virtue.

It would seem that character is a much better criterion than a security list, bolstered by more severe penalties for those who, under temptation, are inclined to permit their character to slip down around their ankles.

Small Chance Of Legislation

Farm organization leaders and political observers, alike, are convinced that the current Congress will not produce anything substantial in the way of farm legislation. If innovations are in store they are more apt to appear when the new Congress convenes next January.

Such a conclusion seems logical. One could hardly expect the Democratic majority to attempt a fundamental program change against the probable veto of the President, or, escaping that, against the prospect of handing it over to such a deeply commited man as Secretary Benson, who would be unfriendly. Nor is it probable that the Republican strength in Congress would attempt to hamstring the party's presidential nominee with agricultural reforms not of his making.

These conditions should not bring criticism from Midwest agriculture. While complaining bitterly for eight years against the strictures of the Benson administration, it cannot be gainsaid that the complainants have in far the majority of instances voted in support of the administration which supports Mr. Benson. Such inconsistency is not legal tender in exchange for new and softer policies at this late stage.

It would be better during the interim for Midwest and Nebraska agriculture to think in deeper terms regarding the fundamental needs of agricultural recovery. This would be an invaluable aid in judging the proposals of both parties during the coming campaign, of shearing away the glittering generalities of vote seeking in order to lay bare the essentials.

It is indisputable that no future program will have meaning or effect unless at the outset it specifically eliminates the so-called surplus, either by disposal actions or redefinition as a normal reserve. Certainly no open market program or any legitimate price support program can put the farmer on his feet so long as an administration cultivates surpluses as a control mechanism.

DREW PEARSON

Traveling Brass Under Scrutiny

WASHINGTON—Gen. Tom White, the Air Force chief of staff, has ordered a full investigation of three fellow generals, one of whom has been junketing apparently to enjoy bullfights. They are:

Maj. Gen. Leland Stranathan, Air Force commander in the Caribbean, who has been flying around Latin-America and just happens to drop in on bullfights.

Maj. Gen. Harlan Parks, who as chief of the Army-Air Force exchange service has been buying Coca-Cola for our thirsty GIs at the same time as Coca-Cola's Board Chairman Bill Robinson has been helping him find a plush civilian job.

Maj. Gen. William Hall, commander of Mitchell Field, N.Y., who has been flying to Washington to spend the week ends with his glamorous wife, Marguerite Higgins of the New York Herald Tribune.

Here are the facts which this column has dug up and turned over to General White. The Air Force is now investigating.

1. General Stranathan, who has developed a passion for bullfights, has been arranging his courtesy calls upon Latin-American countries to coincide with the action in the bull ring. He has described these flights at the taxpayers' expense as "official" although he spent a good part of his time applauding El Toro.

2. Under General Parks, Coca-Cola's sales to the Army-Air Force exchange service have skyrocketed from $2,063,000 in 1956 to $3,268,000 in 1959. This makes the exchange service Coca-Cola's biggest customer.

A year ago, a Coca-Cola representative spoke to Parks about joining the firm after his retirement. This would have been a conflict of interest and Parks politely sidestepped the offer. Instead he applied for the presidency of New York's forthcoming world's fair, and the man who sponsored him was Coca-Cola's Bill Robinson, Ike's golfing friend, who also serves on the world's fair committee.

In the end, the general accepted a flattering offer from McCann-Erickson advertising agency where he will go to work after his retirement on June 30. It may be purely a coincidence that one of McCann-Erickson's biggest customers is Coca-Cola. The agency emphatically denies that Coca-Cola had anything to do with its hiring of the general.

This column is convinced from careful investigation that General Parks did not seek favors from Coca-Cola. Apparently the company was overeager to please the man who had been buying more Coca-Cola than any other customer.

3. General Hall's week-end flights to Washington were not all charged to the taxpayers. Hall claims he used an Air Force plane only when he had official business in Washington. Two out of three times, he says, he paid his own way on the airlines.

DORIS FLEESON

Rocky Gives GOP An Alternative

WASHINGTON — Republicans are going to be able to fill that hall in Chicago next July after all.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's announcement that he will accept a presidential draft gives them time to assess the summit failure's effect on the country and allows them to decide anew whether they have picked the right man for the right job at the right time.

They will then know, too, how the Democrats have met the questions posed by the abrupt changes in their campaign prospects.

The course of the Democratic debate at Los Angeles will show how that party's most astute politicians are judging the public's reaction to the Paris disappointment of its hopes for peace.

Organization Republicans can be expected to stand by Vice-President Richard Nixon who is their real choice, but only up to a point, as the Chicago convention of 1952 proved, when the delegates actually gather, their desire to win the general election takes precedence over their personal preferences.

☆ ☆ ☆

That Rockefeller had never really given up hope had been apparent in his careful avoidance of anything that could be construed as a personal liking for or an endorsement of Nixon.

The operative line in his new statement is that times have changed. In other words, he sees fresh reason to hope.

The 1960 possibilities are not, however, the whole story of the sudden Albany conference of state leaders and the governor's own announcement. Rockefeller is protecting his own political future in a fluid political situation which may find his party, with Nixon at its head, waging a campaign with which he feels he cannot afford to be associated personally or as New York's governor.

His reaction to Nixon's spy story offensive and the appeasement cries Republican Leader Everett Dirksen and others in the Senate came quickly. Rockefeller called for a national debate — frank, responsible and devoid of political partisanship — adding the barbed comment that he hoped his own party would not "try to disguise the present situation."

In this disassociation from any new "soft-on-Communism" type of campaigning, Rockefeller feels he is speaking for that wing of his party which alone has the potential of giving it something resembling equal status.

Nixon will not be dislodged from the leadership he exercises here by the new Rockefeller move. He is understood to be dictating how party spokesmen meet the Democratic attack, but he could moderate their approach in obedience to the threat from the north.

Farmers Working A Clockful

By MONA B. PARKER

If there is a third certainty in this world as sure as the proverbial death and taxes, it is, according to Reva Evans, a wind and rain storm in Gordon on baccalaureate evening. She even checked through back files of the Gordon Journal to verify what she remembered to be an unbroken weather history. And usually, she says, the storm is repeated on graduation night.

Bill Plourd of the Nance County Journal had a timely and pertinent graduation time thought for Fullerton readers and everyone else . . .

There's something decidedly wrong with our sense of values in this country, in his opinion, "when the winner of an athletic award gets more cheers from a commencement audience than the student who earned the highest grades."

With the abundance of moisture, Stan Samuelson of Lyons relates, corn planting, garden making and grass mowing have been slowed down considerably. However, the grass continues to grow by great green leaps and bounds. The more he thinks of it, he groans, the more idea of a concrete lawn painted green appeals to him.

Days are longer, but not quite long enough on the farm, writes Mrs. Roy Ahrndt in the Scribner Rustler. And to add to the lateness of the season and the amount of work waiting to be done, "tractors have a way of breaking down just when they are needed the most."

Dorothy Payne reports the farmers of Hooper working all available hours, also, to make up for lost time. They are busy far into the night with field work.

The Grand Island Independent reports a fairly understandable example of the complexities of governmental affairs. The subdivisions of such government are intricate enough in nature. But nowhere except in Washington itself does it reach its elaborate peak.

A congressman, so the story goes, saw a sign on a door in a government building. The sign read: "4156 General Services Administration, Region 3, Public Buildings Service, Buildings Management Division Utility Room, Custodial."

Asking a passerby for an explanation, the answer was simple enough:

"Broom closet."

Warren Wood expressed himself in the Gering Courier on the matter of state sales and income taxes. He has for some time favored only the sales tax, on the theory that without it and since only one other state does not have such a tax, we're catering to a bunch of free-loaders.

He has shunned a state tax on incomes, since "we've always thought Uncle Samuel took pretty good care of us income-tax-wise."

And though he still frowns on it, he'll take it if it means putting the sales tax across.

No one will ever accuse Hyde Sweet of flabbiness in speaking out his mind on whatever he happens to think needs comment. And he has his say in the Nebraska City News-Press on the condition of the collective national spine . . .

As a nation, we are becoming soft, he says. Our State Department is getting soft. And the people themselves forget the virtues and fortitude and spirit of sacrifice that went into the foundation of our country . . .

Country Crossings

Lincoln, Neb.

This is in answer to the very well-written letter by Mr. F. T. McKinstry about his hair-raising trip to Fairbury (Star, May 17). I am the wife of the farmer who was caught on the track with his harrow.

If anyone was careless, it is the railroad company for not keeping the crossings in shape. One should be able to farm his own ground without "lifting" his harrow across the tracks.

When I called the Rock Island to see if it could be fixed, of course I got the brush-off. We would be glad to have any safety officials visit us and perhaps something can be done about making county crossings safer. One would think the engineer or fireman could report an unsafe crossing to the proper official instead of writing letters, but of course again it is easier to pass the buck.

Our thanks to the trainman for pulling the emergency if he thinks that is what saved a life and our so-called precious equipment.

Unsolved Problems

Lincoln, Neb.

Now that the primary election is over, perhaps a few comments would not be out of order. Those who chose to vote for me are made of sturdy stuff, for in voting for me, they also voted for my one-plank-broadened-tax-base program. A few of them were valiant enough to do some campaigning for me. May their sore feet soon be cured—to say nothing of the Stevenson-like soles of their shoes.

Almost everyone, notably property owners, favors some type of broadened tax structure for they realize that Nebraska must have more revenue than property taxes can produce if it is to keep in step with neighboring states. The majority, naturally, wish a tax structure that will not affect them, but will get "that guy over there."

Some are sure that a sales tax is the remedy. Others are equally confident that an income tax will do the trick. Non-property owners, wherever they be, will have no truck with any change whatever. Representatives of business in Nebraska cities lying close to states having sales taxes, especially adjacent to Iowa, really get warmed up when you talk to them about a broadened tax base. The reason, of course, is perfectly obvious.

Politicking has been a most interesting diversion. I find that the agricultural leaders are very much concerned over the creeping and smothering impact of property taxes on farm ownership. Only recently I rented a residence property to a farmer and his wife. Though still in his fifties, he is leaving the farm he owns and has lived on for years to come to Lincoln. His wife has a good position and he hopes to find something to do. These people know, as I know and we all should realize, that the farmers in Nebraska are in a very tough spot.

Top Ratings

Fremont, Neb.

A recent news story shows that Nebraska Republican Senators Hruska and Curtis are rated near the top in the U.S. Senate for common-sense, economical government, Congressmen Glenn Cunningham and Phil Weav- of the same party are also high. Nebraskans have a right to be proud of their record.

Interestingly, midwestern Republican members of Congress generally rated high in their scores. All of this perhaps shows that we midwesterners have a bit better judgment than those in other areas of our country.

Lincoln, Neb.

Now that Lincoln boasts of 127,000, why would it not be expeditious to take a look at the street signs?

First, there should be more than one on a corner. Second, they shouldn't be hidden behind a telephone pole. Third, it should be systematic, having them on a definite corner. Fourth, the signs should be more legible. Green and white are preferable.

I am not alone in this opinion. I have heard many derogatory comments.

Speeding Car Plows Into 71-Member School Band

. . . 12 Children And Director Injured

Madawaska, Maine (AP)—An automobile hurtled through a 71-member high school band group that was massed for a parade Thursday, injuring 12 children and their band director.

The names of 3 youngsters are on the danger list at a hospital in adjacent Edmundston, N.B. Police said they were dragged beneath the car as it careened through a parking lot and plunged down an embankment.

The driver, George Pelletier, 62-year-old unemployed construction worker of Madawaska, was booked on a drunken driving charge and released in $5,000 bail.

Patrolman Norman Alberts quoted Pelletier as saying the car's accelerator pedal got stuck.

Maine's Gov. John H. Reed, here to dedicate a new customs building in this border town, was an eyewitness.

He said: "The parade (to the customs house) was all ready to go. The band had tuned up. I was in the lead car. I heard a crash like a car upsetting. I turned around and this car was going through the guard rail awfully fast . . . It's a miracle nobody was killed. Children were tossed into the air and all over the place. It (the car) plowed right through the band. It was terrible . . . one of the most tragic scenes I've ever witnessed."

The car sped out of a side street into the parking lot where the band was assembled. After plowing through the band—60 players and 11 majorettes — it smashed through a guard rail and dropped into a lower level of the lot.

'Don't Become A Memory On Memorial Day'—Brooks

Gov. Ralph Brooks reminded Nebraska motorists Thursday, on the eve of the Memorial Day weekend, that 5 of the 1959 Memorial Day motorists were memories before the weekend had passed.

Their 5 deaths in 1959 should be an incentive to careful driving on the long Memorial Day weekend in 1960, the governor said.

Brooks reminded Nebraskans that 190 cruiser cars will be in operation and tat will be in operation and that 8,550 man hours will be spent in patroling Nebraska highways between Friday noon and midnight on Memorial Day.

A combination of airplanes and radar will be used in various spots over the state "to protect the careful Nebraska driver from the carelessly speeding motorist," said Gov. Brooks.

Use of airplanes is planned in the Scottsbluff, North Platte and Lincoln areas, and possible the Omaha territory, he said, with radar used at selected spots throughout the state.

The governor congratulated Nebraska motorists on their excellent traffic record thus far, pointing out that traffic fatalities were 33 fewer to date in 1960 than for a similar period in 1959.

He pointed to the alarming fact, however, that the 18 traffic deaths to date in May correspond exactly with the average for the years, 1957, 1958, and 1959, and that the 14 fatal accidents to date this month exceed by one the 3-year average over the same period.

"With proper tools and proper attitudes, we are making forward strides in our traffic safety campaign, but heavier highway traffic in May is already taking its toll," said Brooks.

"Drive carefully and don't make yourself a memory on Memorial Day," the governor concluded.

State Gathers Surplus Gear For Teaching

The State Department of Education is gathering surplus electronic equipment which will be distributed throughout Nebraska for high school and college science and physics classes this fall, it was learned Thursday.

Dwayne Gardner, head of the surplus property division of the Education Department said they will notify schools and colleges when the equipment is available for distribution—probably sometime in July.

The department now has approximately 45,000 pounds of the electronics equipment stored in a Lincoln warehouse.

Dr. Walter French Jr., professor of science at Nebraska Wesleyan University, has been acting as a "screener" for the department and selecting the equipment for Nebraska from supplies at Stockton and Oakland, Calif., and Norfolk, Va.

The equipment has been determined "obsolete" for the armed forces, but is usable for instructing young people in electronics.

Up Valuation From 40 To 63 Along East O

The 1960 assessed valuation of land abutting East O from 40th to 63rd has been increased by City Tax Commissioner William Schlaebitz.

Schlaebitz said Thursday he increased the city assessed valuations of the fronting land, but not improvements, because of the location of the Gateway Shopping Center at 6100 O and appreciated land values along that portion of O.

The commissioner's action has brought the first complaint to be filed with the board of equlization, which will begin its hearings June 21.

Mike Calasky, owner of 3 lots at 4045 O, states in the filed complaint that the "proposed increase is unreasonable . . . and wholly speculative in view of damages to be sustained by the East O Expressway."

The increased 1960 assessment is based on a new appraised value of $2,400 per lot as compared with the former appraisal of $1,200 on the 3 fronting on O.

Last year, '19 complaints were filed with the equalization board. Under the charter, the council must sit as an equalization board not less than 3 nor more than 30 days beginning June 21.

New York Central Negotiating Merger

Albany, N.Y. (UPI)—President Alfred E. Perlman of the New York Central confirmed Thursday he is negotiating with the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Baltimore & Ohio for a merger to create the country's greatest rail system.

Such a combine would have more than 30,000 miles of owned or controlled right-of-way and assets of around 5 billion dollars, all in the populous Eastern states.

Perlman also told stockholders at the Central's annual meeting that his proposal of some months ago to merge with the Pennsylvania, now the country's largest railway system, has only been deferred. If his talks with the C. & O. and B. & O. fail to bear fruit, Perlman implied he would go back to the Pennsylvania with new proposals.

But he said the combination of the Central with the C. &. O. and B. & O., which earlier this month announced they were considering merging, would be highly desirable.

"It would be to the mutual advantage of all 3 carriers and their stockholders and would contribute substantially to the establishment of a sound transportation system in the East," he told the stockholders.

He said he believed there eventually can be only two rail systems in the East — with the Pennsylvania and Central as the logical keystones.

Perlman said the Pennsylvania clearly is trying to establish one great system and hopes to bring into it the prosperous Norfolk & Western and the Virginian, which serve the Pocahontas coal region. The Norfolk & Western also has started merger talks with the Nickel Plate. Should this merger come off, and these lines then become part of the Pennsylvania system, the Central would be dwarfed and boxed in by the resulting giant Pennsy system, railroad men have said.

Perlman disclosed that the Central has had a further decline in business so far this year, reflecting mainly a drop in steel haulage. He does not expect second quarter business to be anywhere near as good as last year, he said.

Misuse Of U.S. Flag Legislation Drafted

Washington (AP) — Legislation to prevent misuse of the American flag for such purposes as dust rags or wadding was drafted by Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore).

Porter acted after the State Department confirmed a report that printed American flag material had been shipped by a New York jobber to Haiti and used there for ragging and other purposes.

Existing law, Porter said, provides no penalties for desecration.

Japanese Riots May Stop Trip

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower's top advisers Thursday considered the advisability of cancelling or postponing his June visit to Japan as a result of violent "Stay Home, Ike" demonstrations by anti-American Japanese.

The advisers awaited some direct word from pro-American Premier Nobusuke Kishi before reaching a final decision. Pending that, tentative arrangements went forward for the President's trip.

Former Japanese Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida said after a 30-minute conference with the President that the Japanese invitation still stands. He said he thought the trip would be advisable and "we are not backing out like the Soviets."

The left-wing Japanese demonstrations are directed primarily at the new U.S. Japan security treaty and the Kishi administration which pushed the treaty through the lower house of the Japanese parliament.

American officials said it would be unwise for Eisenhower to go through with his trip next month if the Kishi government appears on the verge of collapse.

On the other hand, if Eisenhower cancelled his proposed visit in the face of left-wing demonstrations — which the Kishi government says are sparked by the Communists— it might be a victory for the Reds.

Some State Department officials were said to have suggested a postponement until July. This would give the situation a chance to jell and provide some indication of whether the Kishi administration can weather the storm.

Man Shooting Police Officer Given 5 Years

Sidney (AP) — Homer Chapman Jr., 28, of Sidney has been sentenced to 5 years in the Nebraska Penitentiary in the March 27 shooting of Sidney police officer Sanford Butcher.

Charged as a felon in possession of firearms, Chapman received the maximum sentence from District Judge John Kuns of Kimball. It was the first prosecution in Cheyenne County under the statute concerning felons and firearms which went into effect only last September, according to County Attorney F. L. Balderson.

Butcher was shot in the foot when he and another police officer, Lieutenant Ron Ahlberg, attempted to arrest Chapman. Chapman had the gun in his coat pocket and shot through the coat. Lt. Ahlberg deflected the gun just as Chapman shot.

Butcher was hospitalized but is expected to return to duty June 3, according to Police Chief Sol Willis.

Foes Give 'Missing' Playboy Contractor Financial Worries

Hollywood (AP) — Playboy contractor Hal B. Hayes, who has a 40 million dollar problem, said Thursday:

"I'm ruined . . . I'm dead . . . I don't know how I got involved in this. I tried to pay off everybody but somehow it didn't work."

The mild-looking former fiance of Zsa Zsa Gabor had seemed assured to reporters who located him at a plush Sunset Strip restaurant.

He admitted work had stopped or slowed at 7 locations where his firms are building more than 60 million dollars' worth of projects for the government but declared:

"As of now, we've written 40 million dollars' worth of checks. Everybody is going to get paid."

Work Halted

At most of the works — missile sites or housing for military bases — construction halted because subcontractors said they weren't paid or because funds weren't available to cover liens.

Later, after drinks at his plush "house of tomorrow," which has a swimming pool in the living room, Hayes met reporters again — this time moodily.

"The big companies are after my skin," he said. "They want to get me because I'm a rebel. I can't fight them — I'm a small guy. But apparently I've given them a lot of trouble. Now all I want is peace."

Presently, without elaborating, he fell asleep. A blonde woman friend, who identified herself as Gerry Gay, became alarmed and called an ambulance. Attendants found nothing wrong with him.

Not Lost

Hayes flew in from Mexico City and saw a newspaper bannering the headline, "Millions In Jobs Tied Up As Hal Hayes Missing."

He had his housekeeper call Los Angeles reporters and tell them he would talk to them. She gave an itinerary of 5 Sunset Strip night spots where he might be found. They caught him at La Rue's restaurant.

"I haven't been hiding from anyone," Hayes said. "I've been around the world in the past two weeks. I was at the Summit conference — at that Summit thing. I've been in Hong Kong, France, Cairo, Beirut . . . "

He said he was in Paris to discuss new government contracts with officials he wouldn't identify.

He claimed "competitors" had combined with "some of the bonding companies" to put him at a financial disadvantage and:

"They're all trying to get me out of the business."

Promissory Note Prompts Lawsuit

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Finn of the Lincoln Air Force Base filed a suit Thursday in Lancaster District Court asking a promissory note on a car they had purchased be declared void and that a law governing installment buying be declared unconstitutional.

The Finns named Dean Bros. Auto Sales and the Federated Plan Inc. as defendants. They alleged they purchased a car from Dean Bros. in November, 1959, but that the promissory note on the car was not in proper form.

They also allege LB 652 passed at the last Legislature dealing with regulations on installment buying is discriminatory and unconstitutional.

9 Yanks Forced Down By Gunfire Showered With Red Hospitality

Wiesbaden, Germany (AP) — In a shower of hospitality after forcing down a C47 with gunfire, the Russians drank toasts to peace and U.S.-Soviet friendship with the 9 Americans aboard.

Mrs. McCash

This report came from the Americans at a news conference Thursday after their return from communist East Germany, where 6 Soviet MIGs forced down the transport plane with machine gun bursts last Friday.

"Our treatment was good. The food was good. The Russians helped us out in any way they could for our comfort," said the pilot, Capt. James Lundy of Findlay, Ohio. He has been grounded pending an Air Force inquiry into why his plane strayed off course on a flight from Copenhagen to Hamburg.

Peace And Friendship

"While the Russians brought us cognac, they always made a great point to toast to peace and friendship between our countries," said Mrs. Barbara McCash, 24, of Atlanta, Ga., the only woman aboard.

"They mentioned to us the Russian sailors who were picked up by an American aircraft carrier after drifting at sea and they complimented us as to the treatment the Americans had given them."

The dramatic rescue early this year of the Soviet sailors by the U.S. carrier Kearsarge after 7 weeks adrift in the Pacific took precedence among the Russians over U2 spy plane incident. U.S. authorities had feared the repercussions from the downing of the U2 in the Soviet Union would make it difficult to obtain the Americans' release. But they were freed with surprising speed.

Lundy reported the Russians, referring to the U2, said "the Americans should not have done it" but let it go at that.

The Americans were put up at Soviet headquarters at Grevesmuehlen and the men played volleyball with Russian soldiers in the yard, Mrs. McCash said.

Very Friendly

"The Russians were always very friendly and tried very hard to be helpful," she added. "I got the impression that they were very concerned that we could say we were treated well. They brought us German and Russian brandy and cigaretes."

"On Sunday they made a big to-do over our dinner," Mrs. McCash said. "They started off with boiled fish, broiled chicken, potatoes, vegetables, white bread, a lettuce salad with a very sweet dressing, ice cream and canned cherries and apricots. The food was good. The ice cream—it was vanilla—tasted like American homemade ice cream."

Cooper Happy At 'Split' In Demo Camp

By Don Walton

Republican gubernatorial nominee John Cooper told the Lancaster County GOP convention Thursday that "division in the ranks of our opponents . . . makes me very happy."

Thus, Cooper picked up the tempo handed him by warring Democrats whose interparty bickering has monopolized political headlines since the primary election.

In contrast, Cooper said, primary contests have left "no bitterness" in the GOP.

In county convention business, delegates re-elected County Chairman Russell Brehm to a second term by acclamation.

Brehm, 37-year-old former Lancaster County commissioner, was first named party chief in 1958.

Also elected without opposition were Ed Carter Jr., treasurer, and James Ackerman, secretary.

Unity Keynote

Party unity was the keynote as some 220 county Republicans participated in the political lovefeast, the largest GOP county gathering within the memory of longtime party stalwarts.

Cooper, Humboldt businessman and one-term state senator, said a comparison of the GOP and Democratic state tickets "is almost ridiculous."

For example, he said, the Republican nominee for state treasurer will not if elected "need to hunt a bond all over Nebraska and then pay 4 times as much for it as we should have."

Sen. Carl Curtis told the convention Republicans will need to "campaign relentlessly." Elections, he noted, are "never in the bag."

Curtis suggested that the recent Paris summit conference was "not a failure" in that "the only way in which we can agree with Khrushchev is to yield."

The senator defended American spy activities as "necessary to deter surprise attack."

Brehm — outlining coming campaign plans — said the county organization will attempt to utilize the services of 1,500 to 1,800 volunteer workers and a thousand block workers.

Ward chairman are already being appointed, he said.

The convention authorized the county central committee to also appoint some 280 precinct committeemen and committeewomen.

26% Of Goal

Finance Chairman Don Dixon reported that county Republicans have thus far met 26.7% of their 1960 finance goal, following a 91% effort in 1959.

Also on hand for the party meet was State Chairman Charles Thone.

Delegates and alternates elected to the GOP state convention which is tentatively scheduled for Omaha or Fremont the last week in September:

18th District

Improvements For Beatrice Airport 'Under Advisement'

The Nebraska Aeronautics Commission took "under advisement" Thursday a request for funds for hangar and shop improvements at the Beatrice Municipal Airport.

The request was made by Don Fitzwater, airport manager. The project would be to install heating in a hangar used for twin-engine aircraft, and later development of a shop. He said the overall project would cost $5,200. He did not request a specific figure in state funds.

Commission members were complimentary of the city's "progressive" airport development program, but said they have not in the past allocated state aid for hangar improvements.

A total of $714,453 has been used in developing the airport to date, including $120,630 from the city, $52,770 from the state and $541,053 from the federal government.

Scottsbluff Aided

The commission granted $1,000 state funds, subject to availability in fiscal 1961, for armor coating of an access road at the Scottsbluff airport. The total project cost was estimated at $3,300.

Also granted was $3,600 in state funds for a new hangar at Holdrege, estimated to cost a total of $4,500. Under the state's hangar program, the state pays up to 80 percent of the costs and is reimbursed over a period of from 5 to 10 years.

Chadron Tourist Booth Will Open On June 1

Chadron — Don Eitemiller, chairman of the Chadron Chamber of Commerce committee, has announced that the chamber-sponsored tourist booth will open Wednesday, June 1. It will be located on a lot adjacent to State Highway 20.

This will be the 3rd year of operation for the booth. Last year more than 1,815 cars and 6,655 tourists stopped for information.

Curtis Says Strength Not Enough

Sen. Carl Curtis told Union College Academy graduates Thursday night that peace through strength is not enough for the individual to cope with the storm of fear alternating with hope.

Real strength comes from "peace within ourselves," Curtis said. "That peace comes from a belief in God — a faith in God."

Curtis told the 27 graduates that to make life successful, they need knowledge, work and faith.

"As citizens, we are shirking our duty to our country if we are not informed," he said.

"It is not only necessary that we read; it is vitally important that we comprehend and that we distinguish between the true and the false," Curtis pointed out.

Diplomas were presented by C. L. Newkirk.

Elder M. W. Deming, pastor of College View Adventist Church, gave the invocation and benediction.

Dear Abby—

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We have an intolerable situation at our house and I'm heading for a nervous breakdown if it isn't solved soon.

Our little boy, 3, is our problem. For several months he has been getting up three and four times a night after being tucked in bed. He cries and comes to where we are and we have to put him in bed again. I think if a child is not ill he should go to sleep after a story and goodnight kiss.

I say he should be spanked, but my husband feels sorry for him and won't discipline him. This is making a wreck out of me. How can I make my husband see how wrong he is?

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your husband isn't wrong — you are. The child comes to you because he needs the feeling of security. He just wants to know that you are there in case he needs you. Don't punish him. Give him the love he is asking for and in a short time he'll sleep soundly through the night.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am a single man and have been since my divorce in 1953. I have been keeping company with a woman who is also divorced. She says she loves me, but she continues to be very palsy walsy with all her ex-husband's clan. This has caused several arguments between us. (By the way, there is no excuse for her seeing them because she and her "ex" had no children.) To top it off, according to some of the stories this woman told me (some months back) this whole kit and kaboodle belongs in jail. I told her to choose between all her ex-relatives and me. She said she would like to keep their friendship and mine, too. What should I do?

MAC

DEAR MAC: The woman obviously has two faces. And a man who would put up with her obviously has two heads. Turn tail — and run!

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: What is a 19-year-old girl supposed to do when her boyfiend keeps begging her to "prove her love"?

He is 22 and we have gone together for almost a year. I love him, Abby, but I wasn't raised like that. He says there is nothing wrong with it as long as we love each other and intend to get married. He makes it so difficult for me. We fight over this all the time lately.

He is good-natured, nice looking and sweet and I would give my right arm for him. What should I do?

HEART-BROKEN

DEAR HEART-BROKEN: Give him the gate. He isn't worth your right arm. What he needs is a right hook.

ASK—

Dorothy Draper

I don't know about you, but I love to hear a clock tick-tocking away, and I have one in every room of my house. In my sitting room is a tall floor clock that I picked up for $5 on my wedding trip to Maine.

In my bedroom is an ornate 1760 clock, handed down from one generation to another. A friendly grandfather's clock stands in the hall, and so on. To me, there is a great sense of companionship in the ticking and hourly chiming of a mellow old clock. Children are fascinated by the "bong" of a clock striking and I think more thought should be given to clocks as a decorative as well as a companionable object.

It doesn't necessarily have to be an antique or one with a history. Wonderfully ingenious clocks are being designed today and would make an addition to any wall, mantel, shelf, chest or table. A decorative clock in a foyer can bring life to an entrance.

Mrs. M.H. asks:

"We are building a new home. I need some ideas for my nursery. We have two sons, one 4 months, one 1½ years old. We are using maple furniture and I would like to use the drapes I have now. They are white polished cotton with little pink, gold, cinnamon and turquoise animals on them. I want to know what color to paint the walls. I want a color that will be suitable when the children pass the crib stage. Also I want to tile the floor. What would you suggest?"

Dear Mrs. M.H.:

As it is an easy job to repaint the walls, I would paint them a soft turquoise now. Put a navy blue linoleum on the floor, then later as the boys grow you can use a lively flamboyant red and white color scheme. I'm sure they would love it.

Mrs. J.S. asks:

"Is it correct to use rectangle and round tables in the same room?"

Dear Mrs. J.S.:

Of course. It usually gives a better balanced feeling to have the same shaped tables on either side of the sofa, but elsewhere it doesn't matter as long as the effect is pleasant.

BRIDGE

By B. Jay Becker

You are South, neither side vulnerable. The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
3 NT	Pass	?

What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠KQ832 ♥874 ♦A6 ♣A95
2. ♠KQJ75 ♥6 ♦AJ10 ♣J742
3. ♠QJ94 ♥5 ♦K83 ♣J9765
4. ♠AQ932 ♥KJ653 ♦J4 ♣4

1. Six notrump. Before discussing the proper action to take over three notrump, it might be best to consider what is meant by partner's jump to game. So far as North knows, our spade bid may have been based on 6 high-card points. The response of one in a suit usually ranges from 6 to 16 points.

It follows, therefore, that for North to make a correct rebid of three notrump, he should have 20 or more points, as well as a hand satisfactory for no-trump play. Our 13 points bring the partnership to a total of at least 33 points, the requisite number to justify a slam contract. Hence, the raise to six notrump is clearly indicated.

2. Four diamonds. Here, also, slam prospects are very strong, though 33 high-card points are not accounted, and probably are lacking. Many slams are made, however, with less than 33 high-card points, particularly where distributional factors are present.

The chances of finding North with a three-card spade support, or with a five-card diamond suit, are excellent. If either of these conditions exists, twelve tricks are very likely, to be made. The singleton heart, combined with a trump fit, is probably more than enough to compensate for the slight shortage of high-card points.

If North's rebid is either four spades or five diamonds, a slam in the suit of his choice becomes a sound undertaking.

3. Pass. There is no good reason to disturb three notrump, despite the singleton heart. Nine tricks will probably be made on sheer high-card power. While it is possible that game in clubs or diamonds might also be made, there is too much risk that an eleven-trick contract would be more difficult to fulfill than the nine-trick notrump game.

4. Five hearts. Again, as in Hand #2, distribution plays a decisive role. While there might be only 31 high-card points in the combined hands, we should not be scared away from the potential slam by the lack of 1 or 2 more points.

A four heart bid would be improper. It would not represent the great power of the hand, since it could be based on less high cards and more distribution. A four heart bid might, and probably would be, passed by North.

Talk

—From where we sit it appears that the week end is to be a bit on the gay side. Informal activity dots the Friday and Saturday calendar with accent on courtesies for Mr. and Mrs. Roger Stewart who, with their small daughter, Elaine, arrived from Claremont Calif., on Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and their daughter are the house guests of Mr. Stewart's mother, Mrs. Don W. Stewart, and also are visiting his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Stewart.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will be complimented when Mr. and Mrs. John Olsson are host and hostess at a 6 o'clock to 8 o'clock party at their home.

And on Saturday evening Mrs. Don Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Stewart will be host and hostesses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart in courtesy to the visitors. The guest list for the canape party will include the members of Mrs. Don Stewart's bridge club, and their families.

* * *

—And now we want to mention guests who have come—and gone. Mrs. William Olson and her daughters, Christine Ann and Carla Jean, have returned to their home in Ogallala after a two weeks stay in Lincoln as the house guests of Mrs. Olson's Mrs. Olson's parents, Judge and Mrs. Richard Johnson.

* * *

—There is news from the nursery set at Bryan Memorial Hospital this morning, and it has to do with Scott Ross Taylor who arrived on Thursday, May 26. The young man's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Bowen E. Taylor, and his mother is the former Carolyn Thompson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. I. L. Thompson of West Point. Mrs. Anna Taylor of Philadelphia, Pa., is the paternal grandmother.

Graduation Dance Gay Affair

Courtesies For Brides-Elect

Eighteen members of the chorus of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division honored their director, Miss Gerayne Swanson, on Tuesday evening at a one-gift shower and dinner following a program which the chorus presented for patients at the State Hospital.

Miss Swanson, whose marriage to Donald F. Holscher will take place on June 19, has directed the chorus for the past year.

Included among the guests were Miss Irma Warta, president of the Women's Division, and Miss Mary Ellen Keating, immediate past president.

Mrs. H. F. Gilmour and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert H. Gilmour, entertained on Friday, May 20, at a dessert supper and miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Jeanne Davis. The 36 guests were invited to the Robert Gilmour home for the evening affair.

Miss Davis and Tom George have set Sunday, June 5, as the date for their wedding.

A summer bride-elect who was honored on Tuesday evening, is Miss Daisy Taylor, who will become the bride of Fred Wiemann on July 10, at Treynor, Ia. In courtesy to Miss Taylor, Mrs. Guy Johnson, Mrs. Jack Kearns, Mrs. Howard Rasmussen, and Miss Sylvia Beckard were hostesses at a patio supper and miscellaneous shower held at the Johnson home.

Miss Patricia Metcalf, who will become the bride of Bill Elias on Sunday, June 19, will be honored on Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower for which Mrs. Everett Owens, Mrs. George Johnson of Wayne, and Mrs. Jim Sturm of Sioux City, Ia., will be hostesses at the home of Mrs. Owens.

And Wednesday evening, Capt. and Mrs. Norby were host and hostess when they entertained several Fiene Heights families at a picnic supper at their home. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Blatchley, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Blackburn, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Von Gillern, and their children.

17th Century Cardinal Sainted By Pope John

Vatican City (UPI) — Pope John XXIII Thursday Sainted a 17th century cardinal who worked toward the same goal as he — bringing back the Eastern Orthodox sects to the Church of Rome.

The canonization ceremony included a prayer that Pope John would succeed where St. Gregorio Barbarigo failed.

The Pope proclaimed Barbarigo a saint in an impressive morning ceremony in the Basilica of St. John's in Lateran. His feast day was set for June 18.

In the afternoon, he gave a mass audience in St. Peter's Basilica for 10,000 Italian pilgrims who came to Rome for the Canonization.

Giovanni Cardinal Urbani, who succeeded Pope John as Patriarch of Venice, delivered a speech of thanks to the Pontiff.

"May St. Gregorio Barbarigo, who worked so much toward a return of the Eastern brothers, become our intercessor so the Pope may finally re-embrace all separate brothers in restored unity," Cardinal Urbani prayed.

An Ecumenical Council, expected in 1962 or 1963, will be a worldwide gathering of Roman Catholic Bishops to discuss reunion of sects. Pope John has voiced hope that it may mark the first step toward an eventual return of non-Catholic Christians — especially the Eastern Orthodox — to the Roman church.

Pope John, addressing the pilgrims, praised the virtues of the new Saint and said there was need for more priests.

In what seemed to be an indirect answer to Italian critics of the church's teaching on politics, the Pope said:

"The church knows its task of teaching, of administering, of governing. Beyond the wounds from which it suffers and bleeds, beyond the disorderly murmurs of improvised censors who want to show the church new paths, threatening who knows what disasters because of an alleged lagging behind the times and events, the church proceeds patient and generous, carrying out its divine mission.

"In all times, the church sticks to its task, which is to help man to realize his earthly and eternal vocations — to use his freedom correctly, to place personal interest and whims lower than loyalty to principles and service of his neighbor."

In Reds' Midas Tale Pentagon Has 'Ears'

London (AP) —Moscow radio Thursday related a modern-day version of the ancient King Midas fable. The central character was the Midas earth satellite fired aloft by America. As told in Moscow's German language service, the fable went this way:

"A very long time ago there was in Phrygia a King named Midas. This King had asses' ears. He was ashamed of them and hid them from the world.

"On 24th May, 1960, Midas was resurrected, this time in the shape of an artificial earth satellite. This Midas flies over all countries and peers, eavesdrops and sniffs, trying to find out what is happening in these countries. Air espionage is being raised to new cosmic heights.

"King Midas was ashamed of his asses' ears. He hid them, and only his barber knew of the secret. And since the barber wanted to tell this secret to someone, he betrayed it to the reeds growing in a swamp.

"When the wind blew through the reeds it carried the news: Midas has asses' ears, asses' ears.

"People learn of the asses' ears of the Pentagon through the scandalous story of U2.

"And now the espionage satellite, with the name of King Midas, is circling around the world and tells all the world: the Pentagon has asses' ears."

Equalization Board Holds First Closed Hearing Since 1958

By Del Harding

The County Board of Equalization held its first closed-door meeting since 1958 Thursday at the request of 7 local business firms.

First to request a closed hearing was Harry Simon of Ben Simon and Sons, 1215 O St. Board Chairman Rollin Bailey told Simon he could have a closed hearing if federal income tax information on the clothing firm's 1960 personal property tax return would be discussed.

Simon, who had filed a protest with the board over his firm's inventory valuation, said it would be necessary to go into the income tax information and requested the private hearing.

The next 6 firms to appear then also asked for closed hearings to discuss the personal property tax schedules they had filed. The 6 were:

Donmar Corp., 1400 South
Clinic Bldg. Corp., 3145 O
DeBrown Auto Sales Co., 17th and N
Schwarz Paper Co., 747 O
Stephenson School Supply Co., 935 O
University Publishing Co., 1126 Q

All 6 had filed protests concerning the value the county had placed on their inventories.

The board took no action on any of the protests but may do so Friday when it is expected to wind up its 1960 session.

1958 Opinion

The board quoted a 1958 Attorney General's opinion for barring the press and public from the personal property tax discussion. The opinion held that only "taxing officials" were allowed to have access to information contained on a business personal property tax form dealing with income tax information.

No opinion, however, has ever been requested on the question of whether or not a firm by filing a protest with the Board of Equalization might not have waived this right to keeping the information confidential.

Five firms which appeared before the board earlier Thursday with protests involving personal property tax schedules did not ask closed-door sessions. There 5 were:

Russell Stover Candies, 201 No. 8th
Grainger Bros. Co., 737 P
Gilmour Danielson Drug Co., 142 So. 13th
Lincoln Drug Co., 801 P
First Continental National Bank, 1201 N

None of the 67 firms which filed personal property return protests in 1959 asked for private hearings.

The last such private hearings were in June, 1958, when the Board of Equalization summoned before it a number of business firms and asked them to explain their tax returns. There firms, however, had not filed valuation protests with the board.

He Just Picks Up His Pony

It's tough to keep 'em in the old corral when they can crawl right under the fence—so 9-year-old Gary Collins just picked up this little critter and hauled him right back to the Beatrice ranch. The midget Shetland weighed only about 20 pounds at birth two weeks ago, and stood 15 inches at the shoulder. Compared with the other 50 or 60 shetland ponies on the Kenneth Collins place, that's about half normal size and is a real rarity in the horse world. The colt's mother, Midge, is an undersize mare herself and the little gray was her first offspring. (Star Staff Photo)

Slick Coup Keeps Oleo From Navy

Washington (UPI) — Butter state Senators pulled a fast parliamentary coup Thursday to kill a bill that would have allowed oleomargarine on the Navy's mess tables.

They put across an amendment which would have made the bill meaningless. Sponsors then moved to send the measure back to the Senate Agriculture Committee — a gesture of surrender. The motion was adopted by voice vote.

The surprising outcome ended the latest legislative pitched battle between dairy and oleo interests. From a congressional viewpoint, oleo and butter are like the Hatfields and the McCoys.

Southern lawmakers generally favor pro-oleo legislation because the south provides ingredients which go into the spread. Dairy state congressmen view oleo as a serious competitor to butter.

Greased

The amendment which greased the skids for the bill, which previously had won tentative Senate approval, was offered by Sens. William Proxmire (D-Wis) and Winston L. Prouty (R-Vt).

Their amendment would have barred the navy from purchasing margarine in any year in which Agriculture Department purchases of surplus butter "have been made or are intended to be made."

In recent years, the government invariably has been compelled to buy some surplus butter. Proxmire noted that while there has been no federal butter stockpiling thus far this year, "everyone knows there will be in a few weeks."

When the Senate adopted the Proxmire-Prouty amendment by a 48 to 32 vote, Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.) called off the fight.

Mrs. Lanning Burn Victim

Funeral services for Mrs. Lulu Lanning, 83, of near Palmyra, were held Thursday at Palmyra Methodist Church. The Rev. Wesley Ballard officiated.

She died early Tuesday in a Lincoln hospital of 3rd degree burns over 40% of her body, the attending physician said. Mrs. Lanning suffered the kerosene burns late Monday at her farm home.

Burial was at Rosewood Cemetery at Palmyra.

Otoe County Sheriff Ralph Hall reported that Mrs. Lanning, who had been "ill for some time," called a neighbor lady and asked her to come over, saying she wasn't feeling well.

The neighbor went over, Hall said, and noticed "something wrong" with Mrs. Lanning.

The sheriff added that the neighbor, who had gone back to her own home to call her husband in from the fields, returned to the Lanning farm and found Mrs. Lanning in an alfalfa field and suffering from extensive kerosene burns. Officials made no ruling on the death.

Surviving Mrs. Lanning are her husband, William; a son, Roy of Denver; a sister, Mrs. Fannie McGaugh of Burr; brothers, Harv Trenary of Omaha, and Virgil Trenary of Iron Mountain, Mich., and a granddaughter, Mrs. Sherrel Niebrugge of Syracuse.

Butler Stalls On Request For Stevenson To Answer Ike

Washington (AP) — Eight Democratic Senators and 47 House members asked Thursday that Adlai E. Stevenson be given equal television-radio time to reply to President Eisenhower's report on the Summit.

The 55 members of Congress signed a telegram to Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler urging him to demand time for Stevenson, titular head of the party as its 1956 Presidential nominee.

Butler replied within a few hours, saying it would be best to hold off on any decision as to whether to seek equal time for a party spokesman until after the Senate Foreign Relations Committee completes an inquiry it is opening Friday on the spy plane incident and the Summit collapse. Butler did not say that spokesman would be Stevenson.

The party chairman said the Democratic National Committee's Advisory Council had stated the party's position. That statement blamed Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for the Summit failure, but said Eisenhower Administration policies played into his hands.

"Little more could be said at this time to elaborate on that statement of policy for the Democratic party," Butler said in his statement.

Stevenson has accused the Eisenhower Administration of furnishing Khrushchev through the spy plane incident with the crowbar and sledge hammer the Russian leader used to wreck the Paris meeting.

The Democrats who signed the telegram said they believe the American people want to hear from their party — as well as from Eisenhower — "on issues so important to our survival." They told Butler:

Request

"We know you will agree that in an hour of peril our party has an obligation to help retrieve the situation through responsible analysis and constructive suggestion. We therefore respectfully request that you ask the television networks to make available 30 minutes of time on Wednesday evening, June 1, to permit Adlai E. Stevenson, titular head of the Democratic party, to discus in a constructive way our party's position."

Butler said it would appear to be only fair to all and in the national interest to await the Foreign Relations Committee's inquiry before making any further party statement on the issues. He added:

"If at that point if should be considered wise to request the networks to meet their obligation to provide time and facilities for a spokesman of the Democratic party . . . to address himself to the matters discussed by the President, then . . . I will act promptly to that end.

"I believe it to be in the best national interest for no action to be taken by me in the meantime on behalf of the Democratic party . . ."

NU To Apply For Part Of Mead Site

A formal application for a portion of the Nebraska Ordnance Plant at Mead will probably be filed by the University of Nebraska sometime early in June, Business Manager Carl C. Donaldson said Wednesday afternoon.

Donaldson, together with Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin, Dr. E. F. Frolik and Regent Richard Adkins of Osmond, was in Washington earlier this week conferring with federal authorities on the project. He said surplus property officials in Health, Education and Welfare were most "considerate of preliminary plans for the establishment of an agricultural field laboratory at the Mead site."

The discussions this week centered around the proposed programming of the project. The formal application to Health, Education and Welfare will probably be discussed at the next meeting of the Board of Regents, scheduled June 4.

Donaldson said the Nebraskans were told that the General Services Administration, which has final disposition of surplus property, has not as yet certified as excess the land not needed at Mead for military purposes but is expected to do so soon. The Armed Forces and federal agencies have first priority on such land and it was understood that they have waived their priorities, with the exception of land now being used by the military. The educational donation must be recommended to General Services by Health, Education and Welfare.

Donaldson said if the University's application is granted, large acreages would still remain for General Services to dispose of to the general public.

The business manager also said the Nebraska congressional delegation was most interested in the preliminary plans of the University of Nebraska.

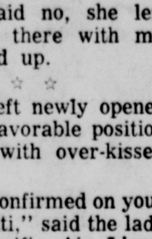
Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

A few romantic days ago in Honolulu, one of the professional kissers made a public protest:

"Too many people come now," he mumbled. "Lips get tired."



The professional kisser was a man with a little mileage on him — he was 65, the way I heard it. He had been kissing incoming tourists for 30 or more years.

A professional kiss is Hawaii's equivalent of the key to the city.

You arrive in the Paradise of the Pacific. You expect a little romance. Friends meet you. They hang a flower lei around your swan-like neck. They give you a big smack.

☆ ☆ ☆

Not all of us who arrived in these coco palm isles have local friends. So the Waikiki hotels sent out professional kissers with armfuls of leis.

"Aloha!" they said. Smack "Aloha!" Smooch.

For the first time, I came into Honolulu this time unkissed. I stood around waiting. But only one young lady in a muumuu came up to me.

I closed my eyes — I am a romantic type about these things.

But she only said: "Are you Mr. Schneider from the paper box convention?"

When I said no, she left me standing there with my lips puckered up.

☆ ☆ ☆

This has left newly opened Tahiti in a favorable position to compete with over-kissed Hawaii.

"You are confirmed on your flight to Tahiti," said the lady at South Pacific Air Lines. (The old Dollar Steamship Line is now airborne. It flies direct to the islands of Gaugin.)

"Let me ask you a question, ma'am. Do they kiss you on arrival in Tahiti?"

"Yes. Every passenger on South Pacific Air Lines is guaranteed one genuine Tahitian kiss. We intend to compete in every way with Hawaii."

"Are they professional kissers?"

"The profession of kissing is not native to Tahiti. Our kissers are not — shall we say experienced? — as the Hawaii kisser who has been bussing the tourists for so many years.

"However, I think you will agree that, in kissing, it is the spirit that counts. Tahiti has that spirit. Do you know the difference between the Hawaiian hula and the Tahitian hula?"

"The Tahitian hula bumps more. The girl looks like she is going over a corduroy road in a jeep.

"That is the way it is with the Tahitian greeting kiss. We predict that once you have had the Tahitian kiss, the Hawaiian smooch will not satisfy."

There was no kiss waiting for me at the Royal Hawaiian when I checked in. But the manager sent up a fresh-cut pineapple.

Pineapple never gets tired. And it has no union.

Pender (AP) — Arlyn Beckman, 14, of Pender, was shot fatally with a .22 caliber rifle while huddling in a garage to keep dry after rain interrupted a bird hunting trip.

Beckman was hunting with Paul Frink, 16, and Douglas Young, 14, when it began to rain. The sheriff's office said they ran to a garage to keep dry, and a bird flew in.

Young Frink whirled to shoot it and the bullet struck Beckman, the sheriff's office reported. The boy died shortly after arrival at a Sioux City hospital.

Chisox Losses Halted

. . . BEAT HALL

Kansas City (AP)—The Chicago White Sox broke out of a 4-game losing streak Thursday night by defeating the Kansas City Athletics 3-1 behind the 5-hit pitching of Bob Shaw and Gerry Staley.

Dick Brown tagged Dick Hall for a 2-run homer in the second and Minnie Minoso tripled home a run against him in the 3rd as the tall Kansas City righthander suffered his first loss after winning 4 straight and compiling a 1.57 earned run average.

The Athletics scored their only run in the 3rd inning when Andy Carey homered. It was his first since coming to the A's from the New York Yankees.

Shaw worked into the 7th inning when he weakened and had to have help from Staley who pulled him out of a deep jam.

Whitey Herzog walked with no one out. Marv Throneberry flied out and Harry Chiti was safe on an error by Gene Freese at 3rd. Dick Williams, batting for Ken Hamlin, walked to load the bases.

Staley replaced Shaw and promptly squelched the A's. Hank Bauer, batting for Hall, bounced into a double play.

Sanford Shuts Off Phils, 9-0

. . . GIANTS' LEAD NOW 1½

Philadelphia (AP)—The rampaging San Francisco Giants swept their 3-game series from the Philadelphia Phillies as righthander Jack Sanford hurled a 4-hit 9-0 shutout Thursday night for his 5th triumph.

In beating the last place Phillies for the 6th time in 6 meetings this season, the west coasters increased their National League lead to a game and half over idle Pittsburgh.

Orlando Cepeda, Eddie Bressoud and Willie Mays supplied the bat power for the Giants. All hit home runs.

Cepeda connected for this 8th circuit blast against big Gene Conley with Willie McCovey on base in the second inning. Bressoud clouted a shot off the left field roof with the bases empty in the 7th. It was his No. 4.

Mays waited until the 9th then he poled his 4th roundtripper with two runners on base to finish off a 5 run ruckus.

The Giants added another unearned run off Ruben Gomez in the 8th. Mays was safe on Al Dark's error and went to 3rd on McCovey's single.

He scored after Tony Taylor made a running catch of Cepeda's foul down the right field line.

Sanford, who blanked the Phillies 1-0 with two hits in San Francisco on May 12th, effectively scattered 4 singles after helping himself out of a sticky situation in the first inning.

Gripe Day

Judging from the Wednesday report by Col. David G. Hammond of the Corps of Engineers, Lincoln voters may have been slipped a mickey on Primary Election Day.

There's still slight hope that Antelope Creek Dam will be built, said the Army officer, but it still appears that the dam "will not be feasible according to present cost-vs. benefit information."

Remember the pre-election days when the big talking point for okaying Salt-Wahoo was the Antelope lake and associated recreational benefits?

Local citizens vetoed the much-needed park bond issue while approving Sale-Wahoo—even though Wahoo didn't—and many observers have related voter reaction this way:

"If we're going to get a new lake near Lincoln, along with its recreational areas, we do not need to spend such a large sum of money for parks."

If such was the case, and even if it was not, Lincoln voters may feel they were sold a bill of goods: Promote Salt-Wahoo by attaching an attractive lake, then "discovering" immediately atfer the measure was approved that the lake "was not feasible."

Lincoln needs added and improved recreational areas—which is why the newly-proposed Park Dept., mill levy increase is a good one—and the Antelope Dam would have helped alleviate the situation, along with other S-W benefits.

But it would be a shame if the park bond issue was defeated because voters were led to expect a dam—which wasn't going to be there all along.

Perhaps it would have made a great deal of difference to Lincoln if the Army Engineers' "lake-unfeasible" report had been stressed before election.

At any rate, the main hope now is that somehow the Antelope Dam will once again become "feasible," since that seems to be the only way Lincoln voters will get what they thought they were buying when they voted "yes" on Salt-Wahoo.

Declare—Or Else!

Entrants in the U.S. Open Golf tournament qualifying, held at Lincoln Country Club Monday, had to sign a statement declaring their intentions to participate in the later rounds and the finals if they were among the top 5 finishers.

This is a recent change—in its second year—and several of the golfers indicated dissatisfaction with the U.S.G.A. rule. Formerly, you could qualify and then state whether or not you wanted to continue. If you chose to drop out, the next-in-line moved up to fill the state's quota.

"I don't understand the reasons for the change, and I don't agree with it," said Hillcrest Pro Bunny Richards. "Many things could come up which would make it either impossible or inopportune to continue if you qualify.

Another thing, they (USGA) have moved the sectional playoffs from Kansas City to St. Louis, which creates additional hardship on this area's entries.

No Alternates

"The way it's set up now, you have to promise to continue if you qualify. And if you are unable to continue, there is no provision for an alternate so the state's entry would be reduced."

Nebraska rates only 5 Open entries, so if one or several drop out, the state suffers. It would seem more reasonable to return to the alternate plan.

There are a record number of Open entries this year, 2,472 vying for a spot in the Cherry Hills Country Club tourney at Denver, June 17-18.

After sectional qualifying has been completed—at 13 sites on June 6-7—129 players will team with the 21 who are totally exempt from qualifying to form the Denver roster.

Orioles Pushed To 2nd

. . . FORD STINGY

New York (AP)—Whitey Ford's 3-hit pitching sent Baltimore skidding out of the American League lead Thursday night as the New York Yankees defeated the Orioles 2-0.

The loss, ending Baltimore's winning streak at 4, dropped the Birds to second, .012 percentage points behind the idle Cleveland Indians, who have first place all to themselves for the first time this season.

It was Ford's first complete game and second victory — both over Baltimore — in 4 decisions. The stubby southpaw had held the Birds hitless after losing pitcher Skinny Brown's 3rd-inning single until rookie Ron Hansen blasted a two-out triple in the 9th.

The Yankees beat Brown (3-1) with a first-inning run on Tony Kubek's leadoff single, a walk and a two-out single by Bob Cerv.

They got their other run in the 7th when Bill Skowron singled for his second hit in 21 at-bats and came around on a sacrifice and Bobby Richardson's single.

The Yankees had 7 hits, all off Brown.

Speedway Course Record Shattered

Indianapolis (AP)—Little Jerry Barber roared around the Speedway golf course with a record breaking 8 under par 63 to pace Thursday's opening rounds in the $50,000 Invitational 500 Festival Open.

The 5-foot five-inch, 137 pound Barber was 3 strokes ahead of the 150 player field which made a shambles of the par 35-36—71 course. The course record is 64 shot by Emil Mashie in 1942.

At 66 were bracketed Doug Ford, Johnny Pott and Bob Goalby as the pros broke 70 with monotonous regularity over the Speedway course which is bisected by the famous Indianapolis auto racing track.

25 Putts

Barber needed only 25 putts as he banged 8 birdies and was never worse than par on his 31-32 round.

Barber, the 4th ranking player in the year's overall money winning list with $22,591, is shooting for his 3rd victory of the year.

One of his previous triumphs was a $10,000 victory in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas. The top prize in the Speedway carnival is $9,000.

Ten players were bracketed at 67, while 8 had 68.

Barber, runnerup in the 1959 PGA tournament, had a putt pop out of the hole at the second cup but after that they dropped for him consistently.

One of his birdie putts was 65 feet on the 407-yard 8rd hole. He also dropped two taps of 15 feet and 3 more from over 6 feet.

"I shot a 62 once in a pro-amateur affair," said the 43-year-old Barber, "but this is the best I ever had in a major tournament.

"Considering that the greens were rather slow and drainy, I had a fantastic round."

Like A Thief

When Barber turned in his card after dropping a 3-foot birdie putt on the 18th, he quipped, "I feel like a thief."

Players notched at 67, 4 strokes off the pace, were Ted Crowe, Ken Venturi, Pete Cooper, Gene Littler, Tommy Jacobs, Fred Wampler, Joe Walser, Jerry Puttman, Dow Finsterwald and Don Whitt.

In the group deadlocked at 68 was the top amateur, Ronnie Atwell, Indianapolis.

The year's top money winner, Masters champion Arnold Palmer, was in a huge batch of 70 shooters.

Fox Cities' Gillick Whips Chiefs, 5-1

. . . 3-HITTER HALTS LINCOLN WINS AT TWO

By Don Bryant

Lincoln's two-game win streak came to an abrupt end Thursday night at Sherman Field.

Fox Cities' Pat Gillick, although he had to wait until the 8th inning to see daylight, slapped a 3-hitter on the Chiefs and whipped them 5-1 before 280 fans.

Topeka now moves into Sherman Field for single games tonight and Saturday and a twin-bill Sunday.

Game time tonight is 8 p.m., with Ed Szcyzewski (0-0) slated to pitch for the Chiefs. It will be Topeka's first appearance of the year.

Lincoln starter Al Brice, working for the first time in two weeks since leaving Charleston, performed creditably through 7 innings.

He held a 1-0 lead through the 6th, but big John Powell's solo homer in the 7th tied it at 1-1. Al yielded only 4 hits and fanned 9 in his initial Lincoln start.

Chief Skipper Ira Hutchinson's bull pen corps broke down after he elected to send Brice to the showers after his 7-inning stint.

Dennis Higgins took over in the 8th, issued a walk, a single and an intentional walk to load the bases with two out, wild-pitched in the go-ahead run and departed in favor of Bob Gruber.

Frank Montgomery promptly lined a Gruber offering to left for two more tallies and the Chiefs were dead. It mattered little when Ray Youngdahl doubled in another tally in the 9th off Ron Moeller, No. 4 Lincoln pitcher.

Gillick opened the game as wild as Nikita Khrushchev, uncorking 3 wild pitches—Lincoln's only run came via one of them—and giving up a double to Gary Johnson.

But after that he just bided his time. Al Weis beat out a bunt for a single in the 3rd and Al Alvarez singled to center in the 5th to wrap up Lincoln's plate work, which at times was downright embarassing.

In picking up his first win, the Fox Cities lefthander whiffed 10—4 Chiefs were caught looking—and walked only 3.

Smoke Signals . . . Lincoln played with a patched lineup. Shortstop Chris Salberg has a leg infection, so Second Baseman Weis moved to short while newly-arrived catcher, Jimmy Cambell, played second. Both turned in sparkling defensive plays. . . . Fox Cities manager Earl Weaver squawked loudly on a 4th ball call in the 7th, but Manly Johnston still walked . . . A rabbit interrupted proceedings briefly by skipping through right field . . . The Lincoln Timing Assn., had 5 cars on display and presented a brief pregame explanation of its activities . . . Powell's homer was his 8th this season . . . Pitcher Dick Kimball, a 1959 Chief, arrived Thursday night, but didn't go on the active list.

Ahh, Suds In Stands

Baltimore (AP) — The Baltimore liquor board Thursday unanimously approved an extension of a liquor license for Memorial Stadium, permitting the sale of beer in the stands.

Under the initial stadium liquor license, beer could be sold during Orioles' games only from booths at the rear of the stadium. Fans could bring the beer back to the seats.

Daywalt Quits Bryant Car; Wilson To Drive

Indianapolis (AP)—The Bryant Heating Special — a race car which "lost" its driver — will run in the 500-mile Memorial Day race with a new man behind the wheel.

Jaws dropped around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Thursday when Jimmy Daywalt of Indianapolis announced he will not drive the Bryant entry after qualifying it at 143.214 miles an hour.

Speedway officials went into a hurried huddle and ruled Dempsey Wilson of Lawndale, Calif., will be allowed to drive the car in Monday's race.

But since Wilson hasn't had a chance to practice with the Bryant car, he may have to start at the tail end of the 33-car field, instead of 26th position earned by Daywalt.

Only once before in recent years has a driver who qualified a speedway car failed to be in it on race day. That was in 1957, when Johnny Parsons replaced Dick Rathmann after Rathmann suffered an eye injury shortly before the race.

But Speedway rules say the car qualifies — not the driver — so Wilson will be allowed to start the Bryant entry in its fourth Memorial Day classic.

—CUS, GEORGE, HOUND LEAD QUIET LIFE—

D'Amato Sitting Home Until Floyd Wins Title

New York (AP)—What happened to Cus D'Amato?

The answer is that nothing much has been happening to him, lately. No longer the manager of record of ex-heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, he lives quietly in his 53rd Street apartment and waits for the day when Floyd will win back the title.

The phone rings regularly. His man, George, makes appointments for visitors. A large white dog with a black eye lounges around the apartment.

Patterson is training for his June 20 rematch with Ingemar Johansson in Newtown, Conn.

D'Amato said he had to sign a consent decree prohibiting him from taking part in the Patterson-Johansson rematch directly or indirectly before the fight could be held.

"Before the signing I anticipated all this," he said. "I sat down and talked with Floyd about all that had to be discussed. Floyd is one of the most intelligent gentlemen I ever have met."

Presumably, Patterson will pay D'Amato the 33⅓ per cent share as manager although the fighter signed his own contract for the rematch.

D'Amato is confident that Patterson will regain the crown.

"From the very beginning I have thought of Floyd as a man of destiny," he said.

"Before he left for the (1952) Olympics I told him, 'Floyd, you will go to Europe, win the Olympics, turn professional, win rookie of the year honors, fighter of the year honors and finally become the youngest man ever to win the heavyweight title.

"Before you are through you will make more firsts than anybody ever has made. You will go down in history as the greatest heavyweight that ever lived.'

"When Floyd was knocked out, my first reaction was that I was seeing something that couldn't have happened.

"Then the thought came to me that he has to be the first man ever to win back the heavyweight title."

DURELLE TKO DRAWS JEERS

Brewer, Maine, (AP) — Yvon Durelle, the fighting fisherman from Baie St. Ann, N.B., scored a technical knockout in the 3rd round Thursday night by belting Emil Dupre of Moncton, N.B., through the ropes.

A crowd of about 1,000 booed the finish.

Des Moines Couple Sue Dr. X; Claim Spat On

Des Moines (AP) — A Des Moines couple who claim professional wrestler Doctor X spat on them filed a $20,000 suit Thursday against Pinkie George Promotions, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude J. Johns said the incident occurred in an exhibition April 12 here. They said Doctor X was employed by the defendant.

Tie petition said Doctor X "without undue provocation or cause maliciously, willfully and intentionally" did spit on the Johnses, their clothes and bodies "as a wanton, uncontrolled act of violence."

The petition said the act was accompanied by "sadistic animalistic gestures, noises and characteristics and with threats of harm and impeachment of character with intent to cause fear, abuse, provocation, malice, bodily harm and injury" to Mr. and Mrs. Johns.

The couple asked $10,000 actual and $10,000 exemplary damages for allegedly suffering "shame, humiliation, wounding of feelings, embarrassment, loss of sleep, nausea, mental anguish and distress."

Track Coaches Back Burleson

. . . IN DUEL AGAINST ELLIOTT

Modesto, Calif. (AP) — Dyrol Burleson, America's fastest miler, drew support from track experts Thursday for his race here Saturday night against world record holder Herb Elliott of Australia.

It was disclosed Elliott suffers from a sore knee, apparently from a cartilage behind the kneecap that hurts when he runs hard. It was described as somewhat painful but not serious.

The two milers battle Saturday night in the California Relays.

A late entry in the relays is shot putter Parry O'Brien, holder of the official world record at 63 feet 4 inches.

Nieder, the ex-Kansan who threw 65-7 at the Texas Relays for a pending record.

Still the mile race holds the most interest.

"Of what I've seen recently, I'd have to go with Burleson's big kick at the finish," said Stanford coach Payton Jordan.

3.58.6 Clocking

He saw the University of Oregon sophomore run the fastest mile of any United States citizen—3 minutes 58.6 seconds — against Stanford April 23.

Last Friday night Jordan watched Elliott win the metric mile—1,500 meters—in the Los Angeles Coliseum Relays.

"I think Elliott is a little behind in his training," Jordan observed. "The big question is how fit he is.

"I don't believe anyone can push Burleson hard enough to take away his big kick at the finish."

Jordan termed the two "probably the two best milers in the world as of this minute."

Winter Likes Kick

Bud Winter, San Jose State coach will be an assistant with the U.S. Olympic team, added: "I think if Elliott doesn't kill Burleson off with a strong pace, Dyrol will outkick him."

Elliott, who set the record of 3:54.5 in 1958, holds the big advantage in experience over his 20-year-old foe.

After visiting a physician for examination and X-rays of his sore knee, Elliott decided to skip any hard prerace running and Thursday substituted a game of golf.

HEART ATTACK CURB PLANNED

San Francisco (AP)—A plan to curb heart attacks at Candlestick Park, home baseball park of the San Francisco Giants, was announced by the police department.

A new parking facility will be built on Jamestown Avenue so baseball fans with heart or other ailments will have only a 50-foot walk.

The present long, uphill climb to the stadium entrance has been blamed for 6 fatal heart attacks since the stadium opened.

Experts Favor Jordan In Title Scrap Tonight

. . . BUT BETTORS PICK CUBAN, 9-5

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP) — Expert opinion shifted Thursday in favor of welterweight champion Don Jordan to retain his world title in a fight with Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba tonight.

A poll of boxing writers disclosed the 25-year-old champion from Los Angeles was almost a unanimous choice. But the betting line still favored the young Cuban, 9-5.

The 15-round engagement will be nationally televised via NBC-TV starting at 8 p.m., CST, from Las Vegas' handsome new Convention Center. A crowd of around 5,000 is expected.

Interest has picked up locally in the bout but the principals and promoters are still bucking the facts of life in Las Vegas.

It's hard to beat such counter attractions as the 22-hour lure of the big gambling casinos and the world renowned talent, including the gorgeous bare-bosomed belies from the continent now appearing on the city's fabulous strip.

Ex-gambling king Mickey Cohen, "Las Vegas' most uninvited guest" is here to see his friend Jordan fight but remains pretty much out of sight.

Sheriff W. E. (Butch) Leypoldt warned Cohen that if he made any misstep he would be "thrown in the pokey."

The fighters took it easy Thursday and neither faces any trouble making the 147-pound limit at weigh-in time.

Observers were perplexed when Paret's handlers drilled him 4 hard rounds Wednesday. No round was less than 4 minutes and two lasted almost 6 minutes.

"Worried? No, he's ready right now," said Paret's manager, Manuel Alfaro.

He disclosed incidentally that Benny is only 20, not the 23 shown in the record books. It seems Benny fibbed about his birth year when he came to this country at the age of 17.

Jordan, 25, who will be defending the title for the 3rd time since winning it from Virgil Akins Dec. 5, 1958, was unusually affable.

"I can knock out anybody I can hit," he declared.

RAMOS COOLS BOSOX

Washington (AP) — Pedro Ramos limited Boston to 5 hits Thursday night for a 5-2 victory as Washington handed the Red Sox their 11th loss in 12 games.

It was Ramos' second straight victory after starting the season with 5 defeats.

Ramos, who hasn't given up more than 3 runs in any game this season, didn't allow the Red Sox a hit after the 5th inning. He walked 4, struck out 5.

Buhl Tops Cards With 12-Hit Help

St. Louis (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves backed Bob Buhl's fireballing 7-hitter with a 12-hit attack Thursday night in a 4-1 victory which gave them a split of a two-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The big righthander delivered one of his sharpest games of the season.

He struck out 9, walked 3, and finished with his 3rd complete game, more than any pitcher on the Braves' staff.

Hank Aaron, the Braves' defending National League batting champ, led the way with 3-for-3, including a double, hiking his batting average 18 points to .339.

Aaron led off both of Milwaukee's scoring innings with hits against Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, Cards starter and loser.

Only Bob Nieman, veteran Redbird leftfielder, solved Buhl consistently. Nieman was 3-for-4, including a solo homer in the 5th, his first in the National League.

Nieman's error helped Milwaukee to an unearned run in a decisive 3-run second inning.

Joe Adcock and Buhl stroked run-scoring singles in the second after Aaron's lead off double. Singles by Adcock and Aaron and Mel Roach's sacrifice fly scored the other Brave run in the 6th.

Yanks' Lone Survivor Makes British Semis

Portrush, Northern Ireland (AP)—Bob Cochran, a 47-year-old paper salesman from St. Louis and the last Yank in the field, swept through two more matches Thursday in brilliant fashion and reached the semifinals of the British Amateur golf championship.

The graying American's stamina in capturing two 18-hole matches Wednesday and Thursday has been the major surprise of this ancient tournament.

Most people thought his legs would let him down when it came to two rounds of stiff, competitive golf in one day. Cochran was the oldest of the final 16.

But the lithe, free-swinging Cochran proved them wrong again as he won both matches Thursday without any serious worry. He battered par (36-36—72) on the first 9 in both matches.

Cochran hammered John Duncan, 38-year-old Irish Amateur Open champion, 6 and 4, in the 5th round in the morning.

Then he scored a 3 and 2 victory over 31-year-old Alan Thirlwell, a British Walker Cup player and former English Amateur champion, in the afternoon quarter-final.

He'll meet Gordon Huddy, a 29-year-old Englishman and former Cambridge University captain, in one of today's 36-hole semifinals. All matches previously were over 18 holes.

Joe Carr, 37, a two-time winner of the title from Dublin, will meet Jimmy Walker, a 39-year-old Scot, in the other semifinal.

Grand Slam By Johnson Boosts CR

Sioux City (AP)—A first inning bases loaded home run by Gene Johnson gave Cedar Rapids a 4-2 Three-I League victory over Sioux City Thursday night.

The victory gave Cedar Rapids a game and a half lead over Burlington.

Memorial Day Death Toll Eyed

It is up to the drivers to determine whether the busy Memorial Day week end "will be a week end of tragedy as well," Col. C. J. Sanders said Thursday.

The Colonel, chief of the State Safety Patrol, noted that Nebraska experienced 5 traffic deaths during last year's Memorial Day week end.

"Every holiday sees people die unnecessarily in traffic accidents because they try to get there and back in too big a hurry which usually involves speeding and indiscriminate passing," Sanders said.

Sanders said Memorial Day is a time for sober thinking—particularly when driving.

Thomas, Team Battle Headline IC4A Meet

Philadelphia (AP) — John Thomas, Boston University's sensational high jumper, and a rousing battle for the team title are expected to provide the main excitement today and Saturday at the annual IC4A outdoor track championships at Villanova Stadium.

The old IC4A high jump record of 6-10 appears certain to fall before the 19-year-old sophomore from Boston, who has cleared 7 feet 22 times and holds the unofficial world mark of 7-1¾ set last Saturday at M.I.T.

Penn State, the defending champion, Villanova, Yale and Manhattan are favored to fight it out for the team championship although 47 colleges are entered.

The enlarged 18-event program includes 4 changes from the 1959 schedule. The 440 hurdles has replaced the 220 low hurdles and the 3-mile has replaced the 2-mile. New events are the hop, step and jump and the 3,000-meter steeplechase.

In a special invitation 880 Saturday, Tom Murphy, the national AAU and Pan-American 800-meter champion, will meet Ed Moran and 3 others.

They will be aiming at the Olympic qualifying mark of 1:49.8. There will be a hop, step and jump Olympic development event.

Among the collegians, all eastern track powers will be present with the exception of Army, which is engaged in a dual meet with Iowa.

The 4 teams that are expected to fight for the title will clash head on in the 100 and 220 which could decide the championship.

8 Top Lap Mark

Monte Carlo, (AP) — Eight drivers, including two from California, broke the lap record Thursday in trials for Sunday's Grand Prix of Monaco auto race. Sterling Moss of Great Britain, driving a Lotus, was timed at 72.5 miles an hour for the day's best time.

Rosters Increased To 30 For Major All-Star Tilts

New York (AP)—Thirty players—two more than the previous high—will be allowed each team for the two major league All-Star baseball games this year, Commissioner Ford Frick announced Thursday.

For the 3rd straight year the players of the National and American League clubs will select the 8 starting players for their respective teams. The rival managers, Al Lopez of the American League champion Chicago White Sox and Walter Alston of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, name the 22 other players, including the starting pitchers.

Aside from increasing the number of players—last year 25 were allowed for the first game and 28 for the second—the only significant change in the rules governing the game is that a pitcher can work in only one of the games. Last year, Don Drysdale of the Dodgers started both games.

The first game this year is scheduled for Kansas City July 11 and the second at the Yankee Stadium in New York July 13. July 12 and 14 are open dates in case of postponement.

The 8 starting players must remain in the game at least 3 innings, and the pitchers are limited to 3-inning stints except those on the mound at the end of 9 innings of a game which goes into extra innings.

Banking Officials Take Stand In Bishop Embezzlement Trial

Bartlett (AP)—Two receivers for the State Department of Banking testified Thursday in the trial of Clifford O. Bishop, former president of the now defunct Bartlett State Bank.

Bishop is charged on 4 counts of embezzlement and false entry. When the bank was closed by the state in June of 1959, examiners said about $170,000 was missing.

Ralph Peterson and Wilbur Slagle, assistant receivers, said they went to the bank when discrepancies were discovered. Both testified they found checks written by Bishop which were juggled from one account to another.

Peterson said he could find no record a check written to Wilford and Evelyn Arehart in the amount of $7,846.24 had ever been charged against Bishop.

Peterson said he traced the check to the point where he found it was charged against the account of James Fitzsimmons. He also testified another check for $236.55 to the Arehards was charged to the Fitzsimmons account.

Clarence Carlton, Denver, official of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., collaborated testimony of Peterson and Slagle.

He said Robert Martin, son-in-law of Bishop and vice president of the bank, had admitted a part in the irregularities and later assisted in unraveling discrepancies in the accounts.

Federal Aid For Education Opposed Here—Cunningham

Washington (AP)—Rep. Glenn Cunningham (R-Neb) told the House that Nebraska does not need or want federal aid to education.

In a brief floor coment, Cunningham said that a statement earlier this week by Rep. D. R. Matthews (D-Fla) indicated that the response from the governor of Nebraska to a House education subcommittee questionnaire last year evidently indicated a strong desire for federal aid to education.

Cunningham said he wanted to set the record straight and referred to a recent poll by the Omaha World-Herald. In this poll, Cunningham said, Democratic Gov. Ralph G. Brooks replied that he did not favor expanding federal aid to education.

"A 1959 survey by the U.S. Office of Education indicated Nebraska schools had a backlog need of 521 classrooms. A recent report of the Nebraska Department of Education shows that 570 classrooms were built in our state in 1959 and twice that number are scheduled for completion," Cunningham said.

The house voted to consider a 3-year, $975 million federal aid for school construction program.

Morrison Held For Idaho Police

Lexington (AP) — Johnnie F. Morrison, 45, of Rutledge, Mo., is held in the Dawson County jail for return to Caldwell, Idaho, on a grand larceny charge. He has waived extradition.

Morrison is charged in connection with the theft of $250 in cash and $11,000 in checks, State Trooper Don Laudenklaus said.

The trooper said he stopped a pickup carrying Morrison and 3 other persons on a complaint of overcrowding, but began checking further when he found that Morrison's driver's license and the truck's registration did not match.

Lake McConaughy Storage Mark Up

. . . Reservoirs' Total Below Year Ago

Hastings (UPI)—The Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District reported that lake McConaughy storage contents increased 62,500 acre feet during April.

Storage rose from 1,479,700 acre feet to 1,542,200 acre feet, the district said.

The district said the U.S. Weather Bureau water supply runoff forecast, for May through September, for the North Platte basin has been revised downward and now calls for 61% of the 1943-57 average.

The district said the South Platte River basin averaged only 60% precipitation for April. The South Platte River above Cheesmon reservoir is now forecast to run off 135% of the 1943-57 average. The rest of the watershed shows about 95% of the 1943-57 average, the district said.

The diversions for irrigation east of North Platte have been very low but canal diversions between the state line and North Platte have been above normal for the first 20 days in May, the district said.

On May 23, storage in Lake McConaughy near Ogallala stood at 1,587,000 acre feet, some 48,400 acre feet below the same date last year.

Total storage in the 5 reservoirs of the district on May 20 was 1,673,440 feet or 49,860 acre feet under the 1,723,300 on May 20, 1959.

Storage supplies in the reservoirs:

Charge Of Motor Vehicle Homicide Filed Against Young Macy Driver

Pender (AP) — Leroy Harlan, 19, of Macy, Neb., has been charged with motor vehicle homicide and leaving the scene of an automobile accident where a person was killed.

Thurston County Attorney Ronald K. Samuelson of Pender filed the two-count charge in connection with an accident in which Peter Saunsoci, about 50, of Macy, was killed.

Samuelson said Harlan had signed a statement admitting he was the driver of the car which rammed the Saunsoci vehicle from the rear several times before it went out of control.

Witnesses said two youths approached Mr. and Mrs. Saunsoci and asked them for money. When they were refused the driver rammed the Saunsoci vehicle. Saunsoci was fatally injured and Mrs. Saunsoci was hospitalized.

Samuelson said there would be no other charges in the case.

Morice Now Denies Slaying

Harrison (AP)—John Morice, 47, told authorities Thursday his story that he killed a Crawford rancher is untrue.

County Attorney W. E. Mumby said he was inclined to believe the man's denial.

However, Mumby said he wants to check out Morice's story before withdrawing a first degree murder charge. He said he may also seek a psychiatric examination of the former Scottsbluff man and perhaps file some other charge if the story proves to be false.

Morice had gone to the sheriff in Klamath Falls, Ore., and related a story that he killed rancher Walter Larson near Crawford, Neb., 3 years ago.

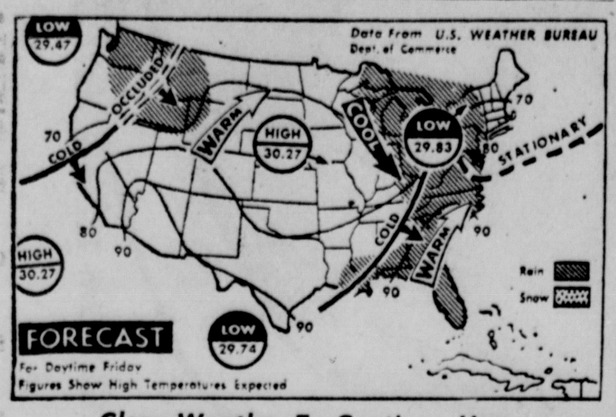
Morice said he was short of money, learned from a woman friend that Larson kept cash at his home and with the woman went to the ranch. He said he shot Larson when the rancher tried to reach a gun of his own.

The woman involved now lives in Klamath Falls. Officials have not made public her name.

Thursday as officers prepared to take Morice to the ranch he told them there was no use making the trip and that he had made up the whole story.

He said he had done it to get revenge on the woman. He had lived with her in Scottsbluf, he said, but she had married another man and gone to the west coast.

Mumby said officers had recognized several discrepancies in Morice's slaying story.



Clear Weather To Continue Here

Scattered showers and thundershowers are expected Friday throughout the Appalachians, Tennessee Valley, along the Atlantic Coast from southern New Jersey to Florida, across the Gulf Coast, and the Ohio Valley and Great Lakes regions. Scattered showers may spot the northern Rockies and eastern portions of Washington and Oregon with widely scattered thundershowers expected over southern Texas. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Norton Says 'Goal Is Key, Strive For It'

"The goal is what is important—not the means, toward the goal." Paul Norton, graduate of Chadron State Teachers College and now vice president of the New York Life Insurance Co., told members of the Lincoln Assn. of Life Underwriters Thursday.

He pointed out that success in the insurance or any business comes only to those who keep their eyes on the goal.

In listing insurance business outlook in the near future, Norton said, "We are on the edge of a major breakthrough on the cure of cancer and heart disease.

"When this happens it will almost completely change underwriting of insurance, with less medical examination emphasis and more emphasis on inspection reports," he said.

With all of these changes taking place so rapidly today, "we can't use the same sales talk and techniques we used a year ago," Norton emphasized.

"We must keep pace with the changing world," he added.

Norton was in Lincoln enroute to Chadron where he will address commencement exercises Friday at Chadron State Teachers College.

Norton, a 1935 graduate of the college, became an agent for the New York company in 1933 while still a student. After obtaining a Master's degree from Harvard School of Business Administration in 1937, Norton moved to Iowa and became assistant manager of the company's Cedar Rapids office.

NEW WORLDS UNFOLD . . .

A good push, a little help from a hill, and the guys will get together for a few minor adjustments and another trial run. Miles to the gallon may be a question later, but now it's miles to the pair of shoes (just ask Mom) and the fascinating world of cars initiates some new members. Fun . . . and good training, too. It's worth a few extra layers of shoe leathers when a boy learns about the responsibility of owning a car, especially if you use this opportunity to teach him the safe driving rules that may save his life on a future highway. Encourage your boy to enjoy his new world of wheels and set a valuable example by observing the rules of safety yourself and by making sure the car you drive is a safe one. If you're in the market for a "good example" car, look in today's Journal and Star Want Ads. You'll find lots to choose from.

STOCKS DECLINE

New York (AP) — Space age issues and other trading favorites were snagged by late profit taking Thursday and the stock market posted an irregular decline. Trading was active.

It was a mixed market all day but late in the session many gainers slid as turnover increased. By the close, 555 stocks were losers, and 457 were gainers of the 11,229 issues traded.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .20 to 215.76 with the industrials up .20, the rails down .90 and the utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 stocks, thanks to gains by some pivotal blue chips, posted a gain of 1.51 at 622.79.

Steels were helped early in the session by forecasts of industry leaders of an upturn in production this summer but the steel stocks faded into irregularity late in the day. Chemicals, aircrafts and drugs also were mixed. Rails, tobaccos, coppers and big three motors declined.

Eleven of the 18 most active stocks advanced and four declined.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher on volume of 1,580,000 shares compared with 1,530,000 Wednesday.

Corporate bonds rose in moderately active trading.

U.S. government bonds advanced. Dealings were quiet.

Bond trading amounted to $5,890,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange compared with $5,820,000 Wednesday.

Most Grains Unchanged

Chicago (AP) — Trade in the grain futures market was unusually dull Thursday and prices of most contracts finished unchanged or only minimum fractions up or down from previous closes.

The volume of dealings probably was less than the small 23¾ million bushels traded in all pits Wednesday and perhaps was the smallest of the year.

In the absence of any new influences, dealers said there appeared to be no reason to do business except for minor technical considerations.

Wheat was unchanged to ¼ cent a bushel lower at the close. July $1.84⅝-½; corn unchanged to ⅜ lower. July $1.21½; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower. July 72¾; rye unchanged to ⅛ higher. July $1.24⅛; soybeans ⅛-¾ lower. July $2.14-14⅛.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY

Summit Failure Served In Pointing Up Realities

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

In Wall Street lingo, if you are motivated by wishful thinking, you're a sucker.

The summit fiasco at Paris may have a silver lining in giving Americans and other free peoples a more realistic grasp of the facts of life.

Rukeyser

It was fantastic sucker bait to assume that an egotistical, self-styled dictator such as Nikita S. Khrushchev sincerely expected to confer, discuss, and give and take at Paris.

By definition, a dictator doesn't discuss; he "tells."

From preliminary soundings with de Gaulle and others, Mr. K. sensed that the other heads of state would not do his bidding.

Accordingly, from Khrushchev's viewpoint, it became a political necessity to scuttle the summit meeting before it recorded Mr. K.'s inability to dictate international decisions.

In this new atmosphere of reality and clarification, it should be pointed out that, in calling this would-be dictator, a dictator, we tend to build him up.

There is grave doubt that Mr. K. is a free agent and is able to call the shots internally in Russia of his own free will. The pre-summit political shake-up in Moscow indicates that Mr. K. was under pressure from others. In addition, he is a prisoner of the Marxian ideology which precludes freedom of choice and freedom of decision in meeting current problems.

The mistakes on our side were not those commonly cited, namely, the U-2 incident and its aftermath. A more serious blunder was in overlooking the admonitions of the late John Foster Dulles of the futility of holding an international circus with a publicity hound like Khrushchev. If there was to be a summit meeting, the late secretary of state insisted that there be a pre-agreement on agenda, etc.

But now that the realities are crystal clear, none but boobs hereafter will try to blend capitalism and communism.

This will cast a shadow on domestic politics, and hence on investment and on the future value of securities.

The domestic deviation from our traditional free-choice economic system will be challenged. Domestic demagogues for too long fooled the unsophisticated by describing the hybrid of free enterprise and federal economic intervention as a "mixed economy." This writer in public debates referred to the confusion as a "mixed up" economy.

With the lifting power of sound money and the competitive market economy demonstrated by the post-war recovery in West Germany and elsewhere in free Europe, in Japan, and in Hong Kong, there will be more faith over here in the validity of free enterprise.

Knowing that the "New Deal" in 1960 is obsolete and not intended to meet changing global conditions, domestic leaders will have the courage to proceed in the pattern of the American system.

Survival depends on the capacity to make things, and in this knowledge there will be a new critical attitude toward ill-fated domestic experiments, such as the farm problem, and expensive social experiments, which impose heavy burdens on the American cost sheet and threaten to price U.S. products out of the market.

Specifically, in terms of what will affect the future of stock values, there will be a new look at federal uneconomic corporate depreciation tax policies, on bungling by the CAB, in giving airlines fair rates in limiting unnecessary "parallel and competitive lines" and at existing tax and labor relations statutes.

With the new mood of realism unleashed by Mr. K.'s behavior, there will be a popular demand at home for economic ideas, laws and defense programs which will strengthen the United States.

Any domestic demagoguery, which divides Americans and hence weakens them, will be at variance with the new mood, and will entail political suicide.

Unintentionally and unwittingly, Mr. K. has clarified the air, and made thoughtful persons in the free world more aware of where their self-interest lies.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self-addressed envelopes should be sent in care of this newspaper. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

CONVERTS

1953 Ford
V-8. In from a neighboring village. Owned previously by two women. (Really). Interior is near perfect, rubber is good. Its body is as tight as a 1959.

1954 Dodge
Real, real, real shiny black with new vinyl top and everything works the best. It is mechanically perfect including the Red Ram V-8 engine.

HARDTOPS

1955 Chevrolet
Bel Air in light blue and ivory and interior is brand new looking. It's as sharp as they come and runs perfectly. It even has a V-8 engine.

1960 Ford
Starliner in solid white with a choice interior. It's stinking new used a few miles, spare still brand new. It has a standard shift connected to an original Thunderbird 300 H.P. engine. Save many, many hundreds on this.

1959 Chevrolet
Impala Sport coupe and is it ever a beaut. A red interior and an ivory white finish. This power steered Imp is the most.

1952 Oldsmobile
Robin egg blue, real sharp, power steering, power brakes, power seat, power windows. They work the best. Tires are next to new. Pretty as they come. 27c
